

Easy English!
By Adrian Wallwork

Top 50 Grammar Mistakes

How to Avoid Them

You get the link on our page vk.com/lingualib

 Springer

Easy English!
By Adrian Wallwork

Top 50 Grammar Mistakes

How to Avoid Them

 Springer

Easy English!

Series Editor

Adrian Wallwork

English for Academics SAS

Pisa, Italy

Easy English is a series of books intended for students and teachers of English as a foreign language.

More information about this series at <http://www.springer.com/series/15586>

Adrian Wallwork

Top 50 Grammar Mistakes

How to Avoid Them

Adrian Wallwork
English for Academics SAS
Pisa, Italy

ISSN 2522-8617

ISSN 2522-8625 (electronic)

Easy English!

ISBN 978-3-319-70983-3

ISBN 978-3-319-70984-0 (eBook)

<https://doi.org/10.1007/978-3-319-70984-0>

Library of Congress Control Number: 2017963153

© Springer International Publishing AG 2018

This work is subject to copyright. All rights are reserved by the Publisher, whether the whole or part of the material is concerned, specifically the rights of translation, reprinting, reuse of illustrations, recitation, broadcasting, reproduction on microfilms or in any other physical way, and transmission or information storage and retrieval, electronic adaptation, computer software, or by similar or dissimilar methodology now known or hereafter developed.

The use of general descriptive names, registered names, trademarks, service marks, etc. in this publication does not imply, even in the absence of a specific statement, that such names are exempt from the relevant protective laws and regulations and therefore free for general use.

The publisher, the authors and the editors are safe to assume that the advice and information in this book are believed to be true and accurate at the date of publication. Neither the publisher nor the authors or the editors give a warranty, express or implied, with respect to the material contained herein or for any errors or omissions that may have been made. The publisher remains neutral with regard to jurisdictional claims in published maps and institutional affiliations.

Printed on acid-free paper

This Springer imprint is published by Springer Nature

The registered company is Springer International Publishing AG

The registered company address is: Gewerbestrasse 11, 6330 Cham, Switzerland

Contents

Part 1 Top 50 Grammar Mistakes

| | | |
|----|---|----|
| 1 | Advise, Recommend, Suggest | 3 |
| 2 | Allow, Enable, Permit, Let | 7 |
| 3 | Already, Just, Still, Yet | 9 |
| 4 | Articles: A, An | 13 |
| 5 | Articles: A / An vs One vs It vs Genitive | 15 |
| 6 | Articles: The vs Zero Article (\emptyset) | 17 |
| 7 | Be Able, Manage vs Can / Could | 19 |
| 8 | Be Born, Die | 21 |
| 9 | Be Going To | 23 |
| 10 | Be vs Have | 25 |
| 11 | Be vs Have as Auxiliary Verbs | 27 |
| 12 | Been vs Gone | 29 |
| 13 | Can vs May | 31 |
| 14 | Cannot vs May Not | 33 |
| 15 | Collective Nouns | 35 |
| 16 | Comparisons | 37 |
| 17 | Conditionals: Zero and First (If vs When) | 41 |
| 18 | Conditionals: Second and Third | 45 |
| 19 | Continuous Forms | 47 |
| 20 | Countable and Uncountable Nouns. | 51 |

| | | |
|----|---|-----|
| 21 | Each, Every, All, None | 55 |
| 22 | Few, Little, A Few, A Little | 59 |
| 23 | (This Is The) First Time, Second Time | 61 |
| 24 | Genitive: The Possessive Form of Nouns | 63 |
| 25 | Have, Have Got | 65 |
| 26 | Have Something Done | 67 |
| 27 | How Long, How Much Time, How Many Times | 69 |
| 28 | -ing Form vs the Infinitive | 71 |
| 29 | Languages and Nationalities | 75 |
| 30 | Like, Love, Prefer | 79 |
| 31 | Make vs Let | 83 |
| 32 | Much, Many, A Lot of, Lots of | 87 |
| 33 | Must vs Have To | 91 |
| 34 | Must Not Vs Do Not Have To | 93 |
| 35 | Numbers, Dates and Measurements | 95 |
| 36 | Passive vs Active | 99 |
| 37 | People vs Person; Men, Human | 103 |
| 38 | Present Perfect vs Past Simple | 107 |
| 39 | Present Perfect With For and Since | 111 |
| 40 | Pronouns | 115 |
| 41 | So, Too, Very, That + Adjective | 119 |
| 42 | So, Such, So Many, So Much | 123 |
| 43 | Some, Any and Related Issues | 125 |
| 44 | Stop, Remember | 129 |
| 45 | Used To and Present Tense | 131 |
| 46 | Very Much, A Lot: Use at the End of a Phrase | 133 |
| 47 | Want, Would, Would Like, Would Prefer | 137 |
| 48 | Which? What? How? | 139 |
| 49 | Who, Which and What in Questions | 141 |
| 50 | Will vs Present Simple | 143 |

Part 2 Revision Tests

| | |
|-----------------------------------|-----|
| 51 Revision Tests. | 147 |
| Revision Tests 1 | 147 |
| Revision Tests 2 | 156 |
| Appendix | 169 |
| Index. | 175 |

Student's Introduction

What Is Easy English?

Easy English is a series of books to help you learn and revise your English with minimal effort.

There are two main strands of the series. You can improve your English by

1. doing short exercises to improve specific areas of grammar (this book) and vocabulary. The grammar and vocabulary books on focus the areas that tend to lead to the most mistakes. The aim is just to highlight what you really need rather than overwhelming you with a mass of rules, many of which may have no practical daily value
2. reading texts in English that you might well normally read in your own language (e.g. personality tests, jokes, lateral thinking games, word searches).

Who Is this Book for? What Level Do I Need to Be?

Anyone who is interested in eliminating the typical mistakes they make as a result of not being able to easily distinguish between similar grammatical items (e.g. the difference between the present perfect and the simple past, or between that and which).

You need to have reached a mid-intermediate level of English to benefit from this book.

Which Is the Best Format to Buy this Book in?

Paper, without any doubt. The exercises involve you writing or underlining directly onto the page. With an e-reader this would be much more difficult. However, an e-book provides a dictionary which will occasionally be useful for you.

How Many Grammar Mistakes Are Dealt with?

This book is called The Top 50 Grammar Mistakes. In reality there are several hundred mistakes dealt within the 50 chapters of Part 1 of this book. The 50 chapters are grouped by type of mistake, rather than individual mistakes.

In What Sense Is this Book an Example of ‘Easy English’?

Many books on grammar try to cover too much and appear to give equal coverage to grammatical rules irrespectively of whether these rules:

- are common
- frequently give rise to mistakes

This means that you can end up doing many exercises that will not really be of much benefit to you. This is because they practise rules and examples that you are unlikely to meet in real life.

This book thus focuses on the areas of English grammar that tend to give rise to the most mistakes.

It is ‘easy’ because

- the typical mistakes are clearly laid out and easy to read
- example sentences contain examples using common English vocabulary
- the exercises are quick to do (they just involve underlining the correct answer) and they are quick to check

Of course, English can be much more complex. The good news is that the complex areas of English grammar are also those that tend to be used the least.

How Is the Book Organized?

Each chapter has a HEADING which gives the key words dealt with in the section. In the explanations below I will be referring to Chapter 32 (Much, Many, A Lot of, Lots of).

Each chapter is made up of five subsections.

1) THE FIRST SUBSECTION shows some typical mistakes. All sentences in italics are mistakes. Each mistake is then followed in the line below with the correct version (in normal script). The key point is highlighted in bold in the correct version. Here is an example:

Was there much people?

Were there many people?

2) In the SECOND SUBSECTION correct examples are given of the key words used in typical situations. These correct examples are shown in a box with a grey background. Here is an example:

We have a lot of information.

We do not have much information.

3) In the THIRD SUBSECTION, very simple guidelines are given of the key words. For example:

Guidelines

- much - used with UNCOUNTABLE NOUNS, generally in negative and interrogative.
- many - used with plural nouns, generally in negative and interrogative
- a lot of - used with all nouns, typically in the affirmative but also in the interrogative
- lots of - can replace a lot of in affirmative, but is not suitable for formal situations. lots of is very rarely used in negative phrases, and is also quite rare in questions.

These guidelines are not comprehensive, they are designed to give you a quick easy-to-remember guideline to the most common uses of the particular word in question.

4) In the FOURTH SUBSECTION, there is an exercise which tests the key words given in the heading of the chapter, so in this case much, many, a lot of, lots of.

The exercise simply consists in underlining the correct form. In some cases, more than one form may be correct. Here is an example:

1. I have a lot of / lots of / many / much books on this subject.
2. We have a lot of homework / much homework / many homeworks to do tonight.

In question 1) a lot of, lots of and many are all possible answers, so you should underline all three. In question 2) only a lot of homework is possible.

A few of the exercises are based on exercises that can be found in English for Academic Research: Grammar Exercises (Springer), which is part of a series of books on academic English, whereas the book you are reading now is focused on general English.

5) The FINAL SUBSECTION is the key. If a form is written in brackets, this means that this form is possible but that the form not in brackets is more common. For example:

18) a lot of advice 19) much (a lot of) 20) much feedback

The best answer to question 19) is much but a lot of would also be possible.

Revision Tests

In Part 2 of the book there are two sets of revision test. Revision Tests 1 deals all the incorrect sentences given in the first subsection of each chapter. Correct the sentences, then go to the first subsection of the relevant chapter to see the answer. Revision Tests 2 is based on the second subsection of each chapter. Again, go to the second subsection of the relevant chapter to see the answer.

For example:

The test on page 152 looks like this.

1. I have much work at the moment.
2. How much times have you been there?
3. Was there much people?
4. You don't need many money to do this.

In the above case, you correct the sentences. Then to check your answers, turn to page 87, where you will see the same sentences (this time in italics) but with the correct answers below (in normal script).

I have much work at the moment.

I have a lot of work at the moment.

How much times have you been there?

How many times have you been there?

Was there much people?

Were there many people?

You don't need many money to do this.

You don't need much / a lot of money to do this.

Where Can I Find More Grammar Explanations and Tests?

Top 50 grammar mistakes is aimed at students studying general English. I have also written a series of books on academic English.

If you want more detailed grammar explanations, then you can find them in this book:

English for Research: Grammar, Usage and Style <https://link.springer.com/book/10.1007/978-1-4614-1593-0>

If you would like to do extra grammar exercises and see examples of English sentences in a more technical context, then you can use this book:

English for Academic Research: Grammar Exercises <https://link.springer.com/book/10.1007/978-1-4614-1593-0>

The companion to Top 50 grammar mistakes which is entitled Top 50 vocabulary mistakes also contains many exercises that you might find useful.

By using all these books in combination, your level of English should improve considerably.

In the appendix, you can find the index to the Grammar Exercises and the Table of Contents of the Vocabulary Exercises book. This will help you to find additional grammar explanations or exercises.

What Are the Other Books in this Series? Which One Should I Read Next?

Currently there are five other books in the series.

Top 50 vocabulary mistakes - how to avoid them

Wordsearches - widen your vocabulary in English

Test your personality - quizzes that are fun and improve your English

Word games, riddles and logic tests - boost your English and have fun

Jokes - have a laugh and improve your English

Apart from the vocabulary book, the other four books are designed to be dipped into rather than being read from the first page to the last. 'Dipped into' means that you can pick up the book and read any page you like, and for as long as you like.

You are likely to have more fun with the books if you read two or three at the same time. So rather than spending the next month concentrating exclusively on vocabulary or grammar, you might find it more fun and stimulating to read a few jokes from the Jokes book, and do a few wordsearches and quizzes.

Teachers Introduction

Which Grammar Mistakes Were Chosen and Why?

You might expect learners of English whose native languages are different (e.g. Arabic, Japanese, Polish, Spanish) to make very different mistakes when writing and reading in English. In reality, while there are some mistakes that are unique to a particular language speaker, there is a core of mistakes that ALL non-native speakers make. For example, speakers of virtually all the world's main languages will say something similar to I am here since a week instead of I have been here (for) a week.

The aim of this book and its companion book on vocabulary (Top 50 vocabulary mistakes - how to avoid them) is to focus on the most commonly made mistakes. This means that readers can set themselves a reasonable target. So rather than trying to learn all English grammar and learning interminably long lists of words, students (and you the teacher) can just focus on those areas / words that tend to be used the most frequently and / or tend to create the most misunderstandings.

This approach (focus on key issues only) immediately differentiates the two books from already existing books on the market (grammars, and grammar / vocabulary exercise books) whose coverage is far too wide or whose aim is simply for reference.

I consulted books of typical mistakes made by speakers of some of the most important languages in the world: Chinese, French, Italian, German, Japanese, Portuguese, Russian and Spanish. I also had access to mistakes made by Czechs, Poles, and Romanians. I then looked to see what mistakes in English were common to the majority of these languages. You can find a list of these books on page xi of the companion volume Top 50 vocabulary mistakes.

I was somewhat hampered by the fact that one of the two books I had on Chinese mistakes and the only book I could find on Japanese mistakes were in the native languages, and I was thus only able to read the sentences in English. I am also influenced by the fact that I live and teach in Italy, and therefore have a natural tendency towards noticing and recording mistakes by speakers of Latinate languages - French, Portuguese, Romanian and Spanish. Thus I would say that my book suffers from a bias of containing more ‘European’ mistakes than any other.

In any case, all the mistakes listed in this book and in its companion book on Vocabulary mistakes are extremely common. If your students manage to master the differences between the various words and constructions, then their English will improve massively - much more so than trying to learn all English vocabulary or all grammar items.

What Is the Main Focus and Rationale?

I have tried to focus on those grammar mistakes that non-native English speakers of all languages tend to make, i.e. those mistakes that are common to speakers of all language groups, whether they be, for instance, French, Russian, or Chinese.

Clearly, mistakes tend to vary from language speaker to language speaker, but there does seem to be a core of typical mistakes as I discovered by researching the books on typical mistakes.

However, there are some areas of grammar that tend to be more idiosyncratic and these are:

- word order - i.e. the position of the main parts of the sentence: subject, verb, object; and also the position of adverbs
- prepositions

Word order and the use of preposition tends to vary massively from language to language, even languages within the same language group, and of course some languages don’t even have prepositions.

I have not gone into massive detail about the differences between the various tenses, as in any case this would have required a lot of space.

Instead I have tried to only focus on those errors that cause the most mistakes. This means that within a certain category, e.g. the definite article or the present perfect, I have not covered every single possible rule and mistake. The idea is to promote ‘easy English’ which means ignoring anything too complex, unless it is a frequent source of error.

I have also avoided areas that tend to lead to confusing explanations (be used to vs get used to; some uses of the present continuous and present perfect continuous; anomalous uses of some and any) or are only useful in the written form (which vs that). Some of these more complex items can be found in the books listed below in the section entitled: Where can I find more grammar explanations and tests?

How Should I Use this book?

The exercises in this book can be used to test student's proficiency with particular sets of words with similar meanings.

They are best used after a specific mistake has been made by a student. For example, if a student misuses make and let, and you believe that this is a recurrent mistake or is likely to be made by others in the class, then you can:

- write the mistake on the whiteboard
- refer students to the explanation of the differences - example sentences are highlighted in a grey background in each section, and are followed by guidelines to usage
- check your students' understanding - in a monolingual class, you can give them a few examples in their own language for them to translate.
- give them the exercise

A few lessons later you can then revise the point, by giving students the relevant exercise from the exercise contained in Part 2 Revision Tests.

Where Can I Find More Grammar Explanations and Tests?

If you want more detailed grammar explanations, then you can find them in this book:

English for Research: Grammar, Usage and Style <https://link.springer.com/book/10.1007/978-1-4614-1593-0>

If you would like to do extra grammar exercises and see examples of English sentences in a more technical context, then you can use this book:

English for Academic Research: Grammar Exercises <https://link.springer.com/book/10.1007/978-1-4614-1593-0>

The companion to Top 50 grammar mistakes, which is entitled Top 50 vocabulary mistakes, also contains many exercises that you might find useful.

By using all these books in combination, your level of English should improve considerably.

In the appendix, you can find the index to the Grammar Exercises and the Table of Contents of the Vocabulary Exercises book. This will help you to find additional grammar explanations or exercises.

Author's Request to Teachers

It would be great if you could contribute to future editions. Please send me examples or explanations that you would like me to include. Please be as specific as possible, provide clear examples, and highlight to me why you think the 'mistake' should be included.

Please also let me know if you find any typos or explanations and keys to exercises that you don't agree with.

Finally, feel free to contact me (adrian.wallwork@gmail.com) if you have ideas for other books that could be part of this Easy English series.

Please also check out our self published books at: sefl.co.uk

About the Author

Since 1984 I have been teaching English as a foreign language - from General English to Business English to Scientific English. I have taught students of all nationalities, and this book is based primarily on the typical mistakes that these students make. I am the author of over 30 textbooks for Springer Science+Business Media, Cambridge University Press, Oxford University Press, the BBC, and many other publishers.

Part 1

Top 50 Grammar Mistakes

Chapter 1

Advise, Recommend, Suggest

Can you suggest me a place to go?

Can you suggest a place for me to go? / where I should go?

I advise to see a lawyer.

I (would) advise you to see a lawyer.

He recommended her to see a doctor.

He recommended that she should see a doctor.

I recommend to identify some key points to remember.

I recommend that we should identify / recommend identifying some key points to remember.

We suggest you to come with us.

We suggest (that) you (should) come with us.

They suggested to use Google Translate.

They suggested using Google Translate.

“Why don’t you see a doctor?”

He suggested / recommended (that) she (should) see a doctor.

He advised her to see a doctor.

I would advise you to see a doctor.

Have you thought about seeing a doctor? It might be a good idea to see a doctor.

“Why don’t we all go out for a drink?”

He suggested that we should all go out for a drink.

He suggested we all go out for a drink.

He suggested going out for a drink.

“What can I do? Where can I go?”

Can you suggest / recommend what I could do and where I could go?

Can you suggest / recommend somewhere (for me) to go?

Can you advise me where to go?

Guidelines

- suggest doing something. This form tends to be used when the subject of suggest is also involved in the activity. e.g. He suggested going for a coffee = he is going for a coffee with the others.
- suggest (that) someone (should) do something. This form tends to be used when the subject of suggest is making the suggestion to someone else. e.g. They suggested that I should go and see a doctor. However, it can also be used when the person making the suggestion is also going to be involved in the activity e.g. He suggested that we should all go and get a coffee.
- recommend follows the same rules as suggest
- recommend something / someone to someone: He recommended his lawyer to me. Not: He recommended to me his lawyer.
- advise someone to do something e.g. They advised us to go by train.

Choose the correct form

1. What do you suggest that I should do / me to do?
2. They advised to get / us to get there early.
3. Health experts recommend reducing / to reduce / that we reduce our intake of salt.
4. He advised seeing / me to see his dentist.
5. I suggest you to go / that you should go there.
6. He recommended to me a bar on the high street / a bar on the high street (to me).
7. We suggest doing / to do this at least once a day.
8. I recommend to follow / following these instructions very carefully.
9. I suggest you to study / you should study more.
10. They advised to not have contact / us not to have contact with her again.

1) that I should do 2) us to get 3) that we reduce / reducing 4) me to see 5) that you should 6) a bar on the high street to me 7) doing 8) following 9) you should study 10) us not to have contact

Chapter 2

Allow, Enable, Permit, Let

It is not allowed / permitted to smoke in class.

Smoking is not permitted in class. / You are not allowed to smoke in class.

The teacher lets us to talk during lessons.

The teacher lets us talk during lessons.

They allow using the dictionary during the exam.

They allow you to use a dictionary during the exam.

This enables to make multiple copies.

This enables multiple copies to be made.

It is not permitted walking on the grass.

Walking on the grass is not permitted. / Don't walk on the grass.

Our parents let us go to bed late.

The teacher allowed / permitted us to use a calculator during the exam.

This app enables / permits / allows you to order a taxi.

This app lets you order a taxi.

They were allowed / permitted to go home early.

Guidelines

- All these verbs have the same meaning, though let is the least formal and permit the most formal. enable cannot be used when giving permission but only in the sense of facilitating.
- They all require a personal object (e.g. to allow someone / you / her to do something).
- let is less formal, requires the infinitive without to, and is not used in the passive form.

Choose the correct form

1. Her parents allowed her do / allowed her doing anything she wanted.
2. Social networks enable people / enable to reach a wider audience, thus enabling them to share / enabling them sharing opinions.
3. The new law permits shops to trade / permits to trade 24 hours a day
4. These binoculars let you see / let you to see for miles.
5. They were not permitted leave / to leave / leaving the country.
6. This kind of behavior is not permitted / permitting.
7. This software enables calculations to make / to be made more quickly.
8. This system allows to save / allows you to save a lot of money.
9. This will allow / allow us to make more money.
10. She didn't let them to watch / let them watch Netflix.

1) allowed her to do 2) enable people, enabling them to share 3) permits shops to trade 4) let you see 5) to leave 6) permitted 7) to be made 8) allows you to save 9) allow us 10) let them watch

Chapter 3

Already, Just, Still, Yet

Are you just here? You are a little early, aren't you?

Are you already here? You are a little early, aren't you?

Are you yet here? I thought you had gone.

Are you still here? I thought you had gone.

I haven't yet decided what to do.

I haven't decided what to do yet.

They haven't still come - I am worried about them.

They still haven't come - I am worried about them.

They are here yet.

They are here already.

Is it midnight already? Time for bed then.

Is it midnight yet? I can't wait to open the champagne to celebrate the new year.

Have you finished already? It didn't take you very long.

Have you finished yet? You seem to be taking a long time.

They have already arrived. Typical, they always arrive early.

They have just arrived. Go help them with their suitcases.

They haven't arrived yet. But I imagine they will be here soon in any case.

They still haven't arrived. Where are they? I hope they haven't had an accident.

Guidelines

already + the affirmative: an event has taken place which may or may not be surprising (I have already seen this film so I don't want to see it again - neutral; ten students have come already, I was only expecting six).

already + the interrogative: the questioner expresses some surprise (I saw their car in the outside. Are they already here?) or great surprise (Heavens! Are they back already? I thought they were going to be at least two hours). Note that the position of already in the phrase indicates the level of surprise.

yet + the interrogative: the questioner wants to know if an event has taken place or not, there is no urgency or surprise involved (Are they here yet?). By making the question negative the questioner adds a sense of surprise (Aren't they here yet?) yet + the negative: a simple statement that something has not happened within the expected time frame (They haven't finished yet.) still: the speaker is surprised in the interrogative (Are they still here? I thought they would be gone by now) and either neutral or surprised in the affirmative (They are still here. When are they going to go?) just + affirmative only: refers to an event that happened very recently (They have just left - only a couple of minutes ago in fact)

Note: Consult a good grammar to learn about the correct position for all these words (already, just, still, yet) and what tenses to use as these differ between US and GB English. For the sake of space and simplicity, the exercises below just test the meaning of the words.

Choose the correct form

1. I thought it was unusual that they hadn't already / just / still / yet been told.
2. I thought it was unusual that they hadn't been told already / just / still / yet.
3. You already / just / still / yet haven't told me about your holiday.
4. He has already / just / still / yet got back from India so he's suffering from a bit of jet lag.
5. I have already / just / still / yet been on the phone to Mary - she's pregnant!
6. I have already / just / still / yet called them twice this morning - where are they?
7. Message on phone: Are you there already / just / still / yet? If you have arrived, can you give me a call?
8. Message on phone: Are you already / just / still / yet at home? If you haven't left yet, could you get my book from beside the bed and bring it with you?
9. Have you done your homework already / just / still / yet? You know we are going out tonight so you really need to finish it now.
10. Have you already / just / still / yet done your homework? How did you manage to do it so fast?
11. I am not sure if I have already / just / still / yet told you, but I have decided to get a new job.
12. I am not sure if I have told you already / just / still / yet, but I have decided to get a new job.

1) already 2) yet (already) 3) still 4) just 5) just 6) already 7) yet 8) still 9) yet 10) already 11) already 12) yet (already)

Chapter 4

Articles: A, An

She has a Apple computer.

She has an Apple computer.

He has an university degree and a MBA.

He has a university degree and an MBA.

He was driving without license.

He was driving without a license.

She works in bank.

She works in a bank.

I came without ID.

I came without any ID / an identity card / an ID.

This is a European law.

This is an EU law.

This is a universal problem.

This is an unusual problem.

He is an NBC player.

He is a notoriously good player.

You cannot enter the country without a visa or a permit.

I need (some) information about how to ...

Guidelines

- The difference between a and an is not grammatical, but is simply based on sound. Use a before every consonant, unless this consonant is part of an acronym where the letter in the acronym has a vowel sound (e.g. F = eff, M = em, N = en).
- an is used before u, if the u is pronounced as in uncle, understanding, uninteresting.
- a is used before u, if the sound is like you e.g. university, unique, utility
- a is used before eu
- a is used before h except in these cases: an hour, an honor, an honest, an heir
- a and an are called 'indefinite articles'. All countable nouns in the singular require an article (either a / an or the). You cannot say, for example, ~~I am without ticket~~. But instead you should say I don't have a ticket or the ticket.
- If a noun is uncountable, then a / an are not used. You cannot say ~~I need an information~~, instead you can use some or a piece of or in some cases simply omit the article.

Choose the correct form. Note: Ø = no article required

1. You can't go there without a / Ø passport.
2. We climbed a / an / Ø high mountain.
3. I would like a / an / some information.
4. I speak a / an / Ø good English.
5. It travels at 90 km a / an / Ø hour.
6. I have a / an / Ø headache.
7. It is spelt with a / an L, not a / an R.
8. We went to a / an hotel.
9. He gave me a / Ø good feedback on my work.
10. It is a / an MP3 file - I haven't seen one of those for a / an year or more.

1) a 2) a 3) some 4) Ø 5) an 6) a 7) an, an 8) a 9) Ø 10) an, a

Chapter 5

Articles: A / An vs One vs It vs Genitive

Do you have one mobile phone? Yes, I have it.

Do you have a mobile phone? Yes, I have one.

Do you think that this year will be more active than the last one?

Do you think that this year will be more active than last year?

That isn't David's umbrella, the one of David is striped.

That isn't David's umbrella, David's is striped.

We didn't go to Sigmund's house, we went to the one of Petra.

We didn't go to Sigmund's house, we went to Petra's.

Bill and Mary went to the movies. This one had already seen it.

Bill and Mary went to the movies. Bill had already seen it.

I have bought a new car - it is self-driving.

They have two cars. She has one and her husband has one.

I went to the shop to buy the new iPhone and I bought the last one.

Do you have a self-driving car? Yes, I have one.

Do you have it with you now? Yes, I do.

Have you found your mobile? Yes I have found it.

Their two children - Jay and Kay - came with them. Jay is only five months' old.

This one is bigger than that one.

Guidelines

- a / an refer to a generic item, one is a number and means a single item rather than two or three.
- do not use the one of to refer to an object belonging to a person (e.g. this is Adrian's; not this is the one of Adrian).
- it refers to a particular item not to a generic item.
- English tends to repeat the noun rather than using one to replace the second mention of the noun. However there are exceptions to this general rule.
- one can be used in comparisons when the object in question has already been established.
- this / that one are not used to refer back to people, instead repeat the name of the person.

Choose the correct form

1. Do you have a self driving car? Yes I have it / one.
2. There were a / one hundred people not two hundred.
3. We only did a / one test before the machine broke down.
4. I don't have my car with me but we can use the one of Anna / Anna's.
5. All these lamps need just a / one bulb. For this lamp we need an / one 80 watt bulb and for this lamp a / one 60 watt bulb.
6. I like both these pictures. This one / picture looks like a Matisse and that one / picture looks like a Picasso.
7. We are going to Paris this year and Rome the next one / next year.
8. I went to a / one university in England.

1) one 2) one 3) one 4) Anna's 5) one, an, a 6) one / picture, one / picture 7) next year 8) a

Chapter 6

Articles: The vs Zero Article (Ø)

All you need is the love.

All you need is love.

English were very shortsighted to initiate Brexit.

The English were very shortsighted to initiate Brexit.

The drug is a serious problem in today's society.

Drugs are a serious problem in today's society.

He had short hair and the eyes were brown.

He had short hair and his eyes were brown.

Make love not war.

The love she felt for him did not waver while he was away during the war in Afghanistan.

Researchers spend a lot of time in the laboratory.

Pollution is a serious environmental issue and the pollution we have here in China is about the worst in the world.

English is spoken all around the world. The English themselves only represent about 10% of native English speaking people.

Guidelines

- zero article (Ø) - to refer to something in general (a shortage of water could be the cause of the next world war).
- definite article (the) - to refer to something specific (we went for a swim at the sea, the water was very polluted).
- the is generally not used with parts of the body (move your left arm).
- the is not usually used with languages, but the is used with nationalities - see Chapter 29.

Choose the correct form

1. I was the / Ø best student in the / Ø class.
2. I love the / Ø music. The / Ø type of the / Ø music that I love the most is the / Ø jazz.
3. This is the / Ø story of my life.
4. I work at the / Ø Department of the / Ø Engineering at the / Ø University of Tokyo in the / Ø Japan.
5. The / Ø change in the climate has significantly affected the / Ø environment.
6. The / Ø climate change has significantly depleted the / Ø ozone layer.
7. We saw the / Ø film at the / Ø cinema.
8. We found a great site on the / Ø Internet.
9. Using this toothpaste totally prevents the / Ø formation of the / Ø plaque.
10. Does the / your leg hurt?

1) the, the 2) Ø, the, Ø, Ø 3) the 4) the, Ø, the, Ø 5) the, the 6) Ø, the 7) the, the 8) the, Ø 9) Ø 10) your

Chapter 7

Be Able, Manage vs Can / Could

I am not able to decide which sentence is correct.

I can't decide which sentence is correct.

I have never can ski.

I have never been able to ski.

I will can pass the exam if I study.

I will be able to pass the exam if I study.

It was a very long marathon but she could reach the end.

It was a very long marathon but she managed to reach the end.

By searching the web, I could find all the info I needed.

By searching the web, I managed to find / was able to find all the info I needed.

I would like to be able to speak Spanish but I have never been able to learn it.

When I was five I could swim very well.

When I lived in Manchester I could go and see the best concerts whenever I wanted to.

We couldn't see because of the rain.

I couldn't answer any of the questions.

Guidelines

- can has no form for the infinitive, present perfect, past perfect or continuous forms, instead a form of to be able is used.
- could can be used in the conditional e.g. If I had time I could probably do it.
- could not can be used to express incapacity in the past e.g. I broke my leg in the accident so I couldn't move.
- with reference to the past you cannot use could (in the affirmative or interrogative). For a specific occasion use managed or was able to e.g. I managed / was able to answer all the questions in the test.
- could with a past meaning can only be used for a repeated / habitual ability e.g. I could play the piano when I was nine.

Choose the correct form

1. I could / am able to be wrong, but I don't think so.
2. I will can / be able to tell you tomorrow.
3. He can / is able to speak ten languages.
4. I hope to can / be able to see her tomorrow.
5. We only had three days in London but we could / managed to see many places.
6. Could you / Did you manage to answer question 5?
7. When I was only three years old I could / managed to ride a bicycle - in fact I used to cycle to kindergarten with my mother.
8. She has never could / been able to do this.
9. If I knew the answer I was able to / could tell you.
10. I could / am able to / manage to sit here all day talking to you.
11. When I was young I could / managed to / was able to go out whenever I wanted.

1) could 2) be able to 3) can 4) be able 5) managed to 6) did you manage to (could you) 7) could 8) been able 9) could 10) could 11) could

Chapter 8

Be Born, Die

I am born in Rome.

I was born in Rome.

She is born in March so she is a Pisces.

She was born in March so she is a Pisces.

The baby will born next week.

The baby will be born next week.

They found him alone in the flat - he was died.

They found him alone in the flat - he was dead.

He was dead ten days ago.

He had died ten days ago.

She is dead since many years.

She has been dead for many years.

She was born in 1997.

Her baby will be born in a couple of months.

He is dead. He died last year. He has been dead for one year.

By the time the ambulance got to the scene of the accident he was already dead.

He died a few minutes before the ambulance arrived.

Guidelines

- to be born - note that born is preceded by a part of the verb to be (is, will be, was etc).
- when talking about your own birth or that of someone use the past tense of to be not the present (she was born).
- to die is a regular verb, it does not require the verb to be.
- died is the past tense of to die.
- to be dead - dead is an adjective and is the opposite of alive.
- remember to use the present perfect to refer to something that took place in the past and is still true today (she had been dead for several years - not: * she is dead for several years).

Choose the correct form

1. I am born / was born on a Tuesday, which apparently is supposed to be a lucky day.
2. He was died / had died before I born / was born.
3. How long are they died / have they been dead?
4. The child will be born / will born in hospital rather than at home.
5. He is dead / died - there is nothing we can do about it now.
6. When is the baby born / will the baby be born?
7. She has been dead / is died for many years.
8. Is she dead / died?

1) was born 2) had died, was born 3) have they been dead 4) will be born 5) dead 6) will the baby be born 7) has been dead 8) dead

Chapter 9

Be Going To

According to the forecast, it rains later this afternoon.

According to the forecast, it is going to rain later this afternoon.

Do you tell me or not?

Are you going to tell me or not?

How do I eat this without a knife and fork?

How am I going to eat this without a knife and fork?

When I get home I am making dinner and watching TV.

When I get home I am going to make dinner and watch TV.

Will you have a shower? If not, I am going to clean the bathroom now.

Are you going to have a shower? If not, I am going to clean the bathroom now.

The piano is being delivered this afternoon. I don't know where I am going to put it.

Tonight I am just going to relax in front of the TV.

She says she's going to be a doctor when she grows up.

Sorry but I am not going to tell you now. Maybe I'll find the courage to tell you tomorrow.

According to the Bank of England, inflation is going to rise 2% next year.

Guidelines

- Use going to to refer to plans and intentions that we have already made decisions about. Examples: He's going to change job next year. (He has already decided to do this) Are you going to see the Louvre while you're in Paris? (Is this part of your planned itinerary?)
- Use going to to make predictions based on present or past evidence. In some cases we can already see that something is starting to happen. Examples: Look – it's going to rain. (The clouds are black.) She is not going to like these changes to the schedules. (Past experience shows she doesn't like changes.)
- For more info on this topic, see Chapter 50.

Choose the correct form

1. I will / am going to take a nap now - so please don't disturb me.
2. I am taking / going to take up yoga - I really need to be more relaxed.
3. You are loving / going to love Rome, it's absolutely beautiful.
4. Is this going to take / Is this taking a long time, because I really need to go out?
5. I'm sorry to hear the situation is so bad, but don't worry I will / am going to call her and see if I can resolve the matter for you.
6. New things are going to / will happen at this company, some of which you are not liking / going to like.
7. Are they going to / Will they play the music this loud all night?
8. When are they finishing / going to finish painting your apartment?
9. She has no money, so how is she paying / going to pay her medical bills when she starts her therapy?
10. After last night's argument is she seeing / going to see him again?

1) am going to 2) going to take 3) going to love 4) is this going to take 5) will 6) are going to, going to like 7) are they going to 8) going to finish 9) going to pay 10) going to see

Chapter 10

Be vs Have

It's snowing outside and I have cold.

It's snowing outside and I am cold.

She has 10 years.

She is 10 years old.

What day do we have today?

What day is it today?

You have right.

You are right.

Is there a computer at you?

Do you have a computer?

She is three years old.

You are right and I am wrong.

I am cold - what's the temperature in here?

I have a cold, in fact I think I am getting a temperature.

Guidelines

- to be is used rather than to have in the following situations: to be + right, wrong, cold, hot, thirsty, hungry.
- to be is used in relation to ages: He is 45 years old.
- to have is also used as an auxiliary verb to form the present perfect and past perfect of every verb, whether it is transitive or intransitive. to be is only used as an auxiliary to form the passive. For more on this see Chapter 11.

Choose the correct form

1. Do you have anything to drink? I have / am thirsty.
2. I am / have always cold when I go skiing.
3. We are having a party, do you want to come? Sorry, but I am / have a cold.
4. He has / is 70 years old tomorrow.
5. She is / has the same age as me.
6. I am hungry / have hunger - what's for dinner?
7. What date do we have / is it today?
8. She is / has very talented and I am / have jealous.

1) am 2) am 3) have 4) is 5) is 6) am hungry 7) is it 8) is, am

Chapter 11

Be vs Have as Auxiliary Verbs

Demand is decreased.

Demand has decreased.

He is gone back to the hotel.

He has gone back to the hotel.

She was arrived an hour before.

She was arrived an hour before.

The lecture is begun.

The lecture has begun.

Your child is grown a lot.

Your child has grown a lot.

Your English is improved.

Your English has improved.

The director had made to resign.

The director was made to resign.

The criminal was arrested by the police.

The police had already arrested the criminal twice before.

The project was finished on time.

The project had already finished when I joined the team.

Taxes were increased by 20% by the new government.

The problems have increased over the last two years.

The patient was taken to hospital in an ambulance.

The father had taken the children to school.

Guidelines

- is / was / will be etc + past participle - passive form (the child was caught smoking - it is not the child that does the action of catching but the teacher).
- has / have / had + past participle passive form (the teacher had already caught the child smoking several times before - the teacher does the action of catching).
- for more on this topic see Chapter 36.

Choose the correct form

1. He has / is gone home.
2. It has / is rained again.
3. For man years public interest has / is focused on water scarcity rather than the use of fossil fuels.
4. These goods have / are produced in India.
5. My friends have / are been to San Francisco.
6. The post has / is arrived.
7. Had / were you stayed there before?
8. Have / Are you come alone?
9. The project had / was terminated by the organizers due to lack of funding.
10. The price of petrol has / is gone up.
11. A lot of money had / was raised by crowdfunding.
12. She had / was seen shoplifting.

- 1) has 2) has 3) has 4) are 5) have 6) has 7) have 8) have 9) was 10) has 11) was 12) was

Chapter 12

Been vs Gone

I have gone to New York twice, the first time was in 2018.

I have been to New York twice, the first time was in 2018.

He had already gone there, so he didn't want to go again.

He had already been there, so he didn't want to go again.

Have you ever gone to Paris?

Have you ever been to Paris?

I have never gone to Venice.

I have never been to Venice.

You are late where have you gone?

You are late where have you been?

He has gone to China - I don't suppose we'll see him again for a long time.

He has been to China twice. He said it was fascinating and he can't wait to go back.

We had gone home already, that's why you couldn't find us at the office.

We had been to the cinema three times that week, so we didn't want to go again.

Guidelines

- has / have gone means that someone went somewhere and is still there now.
- has / have been means that someone went somewhere and then returned back to their departure place and are still at that place.
- had gone means that someone went somewhere and was still there when something else happened.
- had been means that someone went somewhere and came back.

Choose the correct form

1. They've gone to China for a year, they will be back next summer / came back last week.
2. He has gone / been home so he's no longer at the office - he'll probably be playing with his children in the garden.
3. Message on kitchen table: I have gone / been to the supermarket, back in 20 minutes.
4. She has been / gone to Rome - she'll be there till next week.
5. I've just been / gone to the supermarket - it was absolutely crowded and it took me ages.
6. By the time I got to the party, most people had already been / gone home.
7. We wanted to go to the cinema but our friends had already been / gone the night before.
8. Ah, here you are finally. Where have you been / gone? I have been waiting for you for hours.
9. Where has Sam been / gone? I can't find him anywhere. Maybe he has been / gone to lunch.
10. I have gone / been to the bank, so I've got the money I owe you.
11. Have you ever gone / been to Japan?
12. I have never gone / been to work without my umbrella.

- 1) will be back next summer 2) gone 3) gone 4) gone 5) been 6) gone 7) been (gone)
8) been 9) gone, gone 10) been 11) been 12) gone

Chapter 13

Can vs May

As you can remember, I have always loved jazz.

As you may remember, I have always loved jazz.

May you help me with my suitcases?

Can you help me with my suitcases?

Someone can object if it's not true.

Someone may object if it's not true.

The woman in the picture can be a manager.

The woman in the picture may / could be a manager.

It may be that they have lost our address.

They may have lost our address.

He can be in his late 20s.

He is probably in his late 20s.

I can say that it was very expensive.

It was very expensive.

I can come next Wednesday at 12 o'clock - so note that down in your diary.

He may come next week, but he's not sure at the moment.

(Friend to another friend) Can you help me with my homework?

(Shop assistant to customer) May I help you? Do you need some assistance?

Guidelines

- Use can to express a general ability to do something whenever you want. Examples: I can play golf. In England it can rain a lot during the summer.
- Use can to express certain 100% possibility, may for speculations. Examples: I can come tomorrow. (I am certain that I am able to come). I may come to the meeting. (Perhaps I will come)
- Use can I? (or may I - formal) when you want permission. Examples: Can I (May I) open the window?
- Use can you? in a request: Can you help me do the washing?
- Use may I? in a formal situation to ask someone if they need assistance: (Shop assistant to client: May I help you?)

Choose the correct form

1. Can / May I ask you to do me a favor?
2. Let me know if there is anything else I can / may do for you.
3. Can / May you spell that for me?
4. I can / may be late for the meeting, if I am please start without me.
5. Can / May I introduce myself? My name is ...
6. I think there can / may have been a mistake in my bill - I didn't have anything from the mini bar.
7. I think you can / may have misunderstood what Anna said. What she meant was ...
8. Let's arrange a call so that we can / may discuss it further.
9. She can / may speak five different languages - she's a genius.
10. You can / may recall that we met at a party in Sacramento earlier this year.

1) can 2) can 3) can 4) may 5) may (can) 6) may 7) may 8) can 9) can 10) may

Chapter 14

Cannot vs May Not

I can not to see very well.

I cannot see very well.

They can be annoying for me but cannot be for you.

They may be annoying for me but may not necessarily be for you.

She said she was rather busy, so she said she cannot come to the party, but let's hope she does.

She said she was rather busy, so she may not come to the party, but let's hope she does.

It can be that I don't have enough money to pay the bill.

I may not have enough money to pay the bill.

I may not come to the party - I am afraid I will be away that weekend.

I cannot come to the party - I am afraid I will be away that weekend

I cannot come to the lesson tomorrow because I am on holiday. = It is impossible for me to come.

I may not come to the lesson – I will let you know later today if I can or not.
= Perhaps I will not come.

She cannot be at home yet, she doesn't stop work until after 6 pm.

I would try ringing her later because she may not be at home yet.

Guidelines

- cannot is generally written as one word, or in the contracted form: can't.
Example: She can't / cannot speak English very well.
- Use cannot to express 100% impossibility and may not for speculations.
Example: She cannot come to the meeting. (It is impossible for her to come).
I may not be able to come. ((Perhaps I will not come)

Choose the correct form

1. I'm sorry but I cannot / may not have enough time to finish doing the painting today.
2. I cannot / may not stress how important this is for me.
3. I am sorry but I cannot / may not come to your party next week - I have to go away for a business meeting.
4. I think the wifi cannot / may not be working correctly - my connection keeps coming and going.
5. At work we cannot / may not eat at our desks - it's forbidden.
6. She cannot / may not look very intelligent but I can guarantee that she is a genius.
7. I cannot / may not be in time for dinner tonight - I will let you know later this evening.
8. It cannot / may not have been her that you saw at the supermarket, she's in Brazil at the moment.

1) may not 2) cannot 3) cannot 4) may not 5) cannot 6) may not 7) may not 8) cannot

Chapter 15

Collective Nouns

Manchester United is playing Real Madrid tonight.

Manchester United are playing Real Madrid tonight.

The police is investigating the case.

The police are investigating the case.

None of the books is worth reading.

None of the books are worth reading.

The staff is having a meeting at the moment.

The staff are having a meeting at the moment.

The gang is fighting each other.

The gang are fighting each other.

Most of the companies in the survey have an intranet.

England has a population of 54 million.

England are playing South Korea in the world cup semi finals.

None of the films I saw were [was] any good.

None of the information was up to date.

The crew / team / staff / choir are all from Mexico.

Guidelines

- When groups of people are viewed in an official manner as a single unit, then the noun is followed by a singular verb (China is hosting the World Cup), but when these people are seen as a group of individuals (e.g. a football team) then the noun is followed by a plural verb (China are playing Russia in the final).
- Some nouns, such as crew, team, staff, gang, orchestra are generally (but not always) followed by a plural verb given that they are seen as individual people rather than as just one single unit.
- Although none means not one, the verb tends to agree with the main noun (e.g. none of the artists, none of the speakers, none of the children) and is thus plural (e.g. none of the class speak English).
- If a noun is used with a plural verb then logically the related pronoun will be plural too e.g. Barcelona are playing at home tonight, they should win.

Choose the correct form

1. The staff is / are always busy so it is difficult to get its / their attention.
2. Nike has / have announced a new product line.
3. Manchester United is / are one of the richest clubs in the world. Tonight it is / they are playing in the Champions League.
4. Radiohead is / are one of my favorite rock bands. Tonight it is / they are playing live at the festival.
5. Our class is / are going on a school trip next week.
6. The police is / are corrupt. It / They often take bribes.
7. The jury is / are expected to reach a verdict tonight, when it / they will say whether it thinks / they think the suspect is guilty of murder or not.
8. The English are / is a patriotic and often insular race which explains why it / they wanted to leave the European Union.

1) are, their 2) has / have (both are equally possible) 3) is [are], they are 4) is / are, they are 5) is [are] 6) are, they 7) is / are, they, they think 8) are, they

Chapter 16

Comparisons

She is the better in the class.

She is the best in the class.

I am worst than you at English.

I am worse than you at English.

It was the more expensive I could find.

It was the most expensive I could find.

This exercise is more easy than that one.

This exercise is easier than that one.

The new reservoir holds ten times water as much as the old one.

The new reservoir holds ten times as much water as the old one.

Bigger the mistake more you learn.

The bigger the mistake the more you learn.

Her mother is a taller woman.

Her mother is quite tall.

They came as late as midnight.

They came at midnight.

Microsoft is bigger than Amazon.

FIAT is one of the biggest companies in Italy.

Mexico City has the second largest population in the world.

She is by far the most productive person in the company.

Thailand's inflation rate is not as low as Japan's.

She doesn't have as much time as I do. (OR She has less time than me).

They have as many clients as us. (OR the same number of clients as us).

The more I see, the less I understand you.

The sooner you send it to me, the better (it would be).

Guidelines

- Many adjectives form their comparison and superlative with more and most.
Examples: more intelligent, the most useful, more polite, the most common
- Exceptions to the rule above are all adjectives of one syllable, and adjectives that end in -y or -ow. Examples: easy > easier; easiest; happy > happier; happiest; narrow > narrower; narrowest
- There are some irregular adjectives: good, better, the best; bad, worse, the worst; little, less, the least; much, more, the most; far; further / farther; the furthest / farthest
- To compare two people, things or events you can use a comparative adjective + than, or a noun + than: A Ferrari is more expensive than a Fiat.
- To show that there is no difference between people, things or events use as + adjective / noun + as. If there is a difference use as + adjective / noun + as: Britain's GDP is as big as Italy's GDP.

Underline the correct form

1. This is the better / best party I have ever been to.
2. This is the more / most beautiful building in the street.
3. Parties are more popular than / that lessons.
4. The weather in England is worse / worst than in Mexico.
5. These are the most easy / easiest exercises to do.
6. I earn lesser / less than she does.
7. London is one of the more / most expensive cities in the world.
8. The longer / more long it takes the better it is / is it.
9. The more intelligent you are / you are intelligent the more / most difficult life is.
10. They work twice as hard as / than I do.
11. This is as big as / like that one.
12. This is as big as / big like yours.

1) best 2) most 3) than 4) worse 5) easiest 6) less 7) most 8) longer, it is 9) intelligent you are, more 10) as 11) as 12) as big as

Chapter 17

Conditionals: Zero and First (If vs When)

If I see her, I tell her what you said.

If I see her, I will tell her what you said.

You will not pass the exam if you will not study.

You will not pass the exam if you do not study.

When you arrive late to a Keith Jarrett concert they don't let you in.

If you arrive late to a Keith Jarrett concert they don't let you in.

I will call the police when she is not back within the next hour.

I will call the police if she is not back within the next hour.

When I decide to go to New York this year, I will certainly come and see you.

If I decide to go to New York this year, I will certainly come and see you.

If you mix red and green you get brown.

If you arrive late at my company no one says anything - it's all very easy going.

If I arrive late tomorrow my boss will be very angry - we have a meeting early in the morning.

I won't pass the exam if I don't study.

When I see her, I will tell her. It will either be Monday or Tuesday next week.

If I see her, I will tell her. But to be honest I don't see her very often so I can't guarantee anything.

Guidelines

- if + present + present (situations that never change, laws). Example: If you heat ice, it melts. In this case you could replace if with when with little difference in meaning. This form is known as the zero conditional.
- if + present + will (real hypothesis regarding now or the future). Examples: If it rains this weekend I will stay at home. This form is known as the first conditional.
- You can generally switch the two parts of the phrases around. Example: If you come to the party I will be happy = I will be happy if you come to the party.
- when is always used to introduce a real situation, not a hypothetical situation. will means that the speaker thinks / assumes that something will certainly happen at some point (When I get home, I will call you immediately). In the example, I may not be sure exactly what time I will arrive home, but I know for sure that I am going home.
- if introduces a possibility (If I get home before midnight, then I will call you, if not, I'll call you tomorrow morning). In this example, I may or may not arrive home before midnight.
- With the zero conditional (i.e. when making generalizations where the outcome is definite), there may be little difference in meaning between when and if e.g. Plants die if / when you don't give them sufficient water.

Choose the correct form

1. I tell / will tell her if / when I see / will see her at the lesson - she messaged me that she was definitely coming.
2. Will / Do let me know if you hear / will hear from her? Thanks.
3. If you press / will press too hard, it breaks / will break.
4. If / When I don't go to my English lesson today I miss / will miss the test.
5. I finish / will finish the report today if I have / will have time.
6. My mother will be calling round at some point soon. When / If she arrives, just tell her I have popped out to the supermarket.
7. My mother might come round later. When / If she does come, just tell her I have popped out to the supermarket.
8. If / When I am in Paris next week, I am going to go to the Louvre. I've already booked my ticket.
9. Your plants die / will die if you don't / will not give them sufficient water.
10. I don't / won't generally sleep well if I drink / will drink coffee before going to bed.
11. When / If you want to go out tonight you have / you'll have to clear up first.
12. When / If the fire looks as if it is going out, put some more wood on it.

1) will tell, when, see 2) will, hear 3) press, will break (breaks) 4) If I don't go, will miss 5) will finish, have 6) when 7) if 8) when 9) will die, don't 10) don't, drink 11) if 12) if

Chapter 18

Conditionals: Second and Third

If my parents would give me the money I would go on holiday.

If my parents gave me the money I would go on holiday.

We would have arrived much earlier if we would not have got lost.

We would have arrived much earlier if we had not got lost.

If I had not got married so young it was better.

If I had not got married so young it would have been better.

If I would live in the country, I would be happy.

If I lived in the country, I would be happy.

I would die, if he had seen me like that.

I would have died, if he had seen me like that.

If I knew the answer I would tell you. But unfortunately I don't know the answer.

I would study more if I had time. I have so many other things to do which take up all my time.

I would have traveled more when I was younger if I had had the money, but in reality I was a poor student!

If I had passed the exam I would have been very happy, but unfortunately I failed.

Guidelines

- second conditional: if + past + would (for 'unreal' hypotheses regarding the present). Example: I would buy a house if I won the lottery.
- third conditional: if + past perfect + would have + past participle (hypotheses regarding the past). Example: If I had studied harder when I was at university I would have made my parents happy.
- You can generally switch the two parts of the phrases around. Example: If you had come earlier it would have been better = It would have been better if you had come earlier.

Choose the correct form

1. I worked / would work in London if I had / would have the chance.
2. I'm really sorry. I would tell / would have told you earlier if I had / had had the chance, but I've been busy all day.
3. If I am / were CEO I will / would give everyone a raise.
4. If I were / had been in charge of the last project I would delegate / would have delegated a little more than the project manager did.
5. She seems a bit reluctant to do the presentation. Perhaps if we gave / had given her some help with the slides, she would accept / would have accepted.
6. It was / would have been better if I had / would have never met him.
7. I helped / would help you if I had / would have the time.
8. We ran out of time at the meeting. If we had / had had more time, we would cover / would have covered all the items on the agenda.

1) would, had 2) would have told, had had 3) were, would 4) had been, would have delegated 5) gave, would accept 6) would have been, had 7) would help, had 8) had had, would have covered

Chapter 19

Continuous Forms

He is thinking that politics is a waste of time.

He thinks that politics is a waste of time.

The dog is smelling. She needs a wash.

The dog smells. She needs a wash.

She's talked on the phone all morning - when is she going to stop?

She's been talking on the phone all morning - when is she going to stop?

Last weekend I didn't do anything because my girlfriend worked.

Last weekend I didn't do anything because my girlfriend was working.

We went for a walk but after an hour it was raining.

We went for a walk but after an hour it started to rain / it rained.

He has two dogs. = He owns / possesses two dogs.

He is having lunch with her today. = He has made a future arrangement to eat with her.

They asked me what I do / did. = They wanted to know what my job is / was.

They asked me what I was doing there. = They wanted to know why I was there at that particular moment.

As I was telling you ... = I didn't finish what I wanted to tell you.

As I told you ... = I finished what I wanted to tell you but now I want to refer to it again.

He's been talking on the phone all morning. (He is still talking now).

I've talked to her and we've resolved the matter. (I am not talking to her now)

I have been doing my homework that's why I am so tired. Mother: But have you finished it?

I have done my homework so can I play now? Mother: That's great, of course you can.

Guidelines

- Some types of verb are not generally used in the continuous form. They describe states (situations which don't change) rather than actions (things which change): believe, forget, imagine, know, mean, notice, recognize, remember, think (i.e. have an opinion), understand. Also verbs that are used to express senses and perception: feel, hear, see, seem, look, smell, taste. However some of these verbs can be used in the continuous form, but with a different meaning e.g. I see (understand) what you mean vs I am seeing her tomorrow (I have an appointment). What do you think? (What is your opinion?) What are you thinking about? (what's going on in your head?)
- Continuous forms are used to talk about i) an incomplete action: I have been writing emails all morning, but I haven't finished yet; ii) a temporary situation that is going on at this moment or was going on at a particularly moment in the past. Examples: You are reading an explanation of the present continuous. I usually worked in my own office, but on that occasion I was working in Carol's office.
- The present continuous is also used to talk about future arrangements. Examples: I am going there tomorrow. She is seeing him tonight.
- The present perfect continuous is also used to give an explanation for a present situation. Example: Why are you covered in ink? I've been repairing the photocopier.

Choose the correct form

1. He is seeing / sees her regularly. Next week I think / am thinking that he is seeing / sees her next week at the festival,
2. It is smelling / smells strange, should we take it back?
3. The dog is smelling / smells the food - I wonder if he will eat it or not.
4. At the moment, he is looking / looks at his notebook.
5. I lived / was living in London for ten years before I came / was coming here.
6. While I lived / was living in London, I met / was meeting my wife.
7. I have written / been writing emails all morning – I have written / been writing 20 so far.
8. He has worked / been working too hard that's why he's always so tired.
9. He has worked / been working for several different companies. He has worked / been working for his current company for six months.
10. She has read / has been reading that book before and she doesn't want to read it again.

1) sees, think, is seeing 2) smells 3) is smelling 4) is looking 5) lived, came 6) was living, met 7) been writing, written 8) been working 9) has worked, been working 10) has read

Chapter 20

Countable and Uncountable Nouns

Excuse me, is there a news for me?

Excuse me, is there any news for me?

The news about her aunt are not good.

The news about her aunt is not good.

He has such a bad taste.

He has such bad taste.

He's losing his hairs with all this stress.

He's losing his hair with all this stress.

I asked a staff at the informations desk.

I asked a staff member at the information desk.

I have a lot of experiences in writing reports.

I have a lot of experience in writing reports.

Look at the damages she has done to our car.

Look at the damage she has done to our car.

They have done many researches on this.

They have done a lot of research on this.

This may be an evidence against astrology.

This may be evidence against astrology.

We went to the mall, had a lunch, and then saw a movie.

We went to the mall, had lunch, and then saw a movie.

The most important feedback is the feedback you get day by day.

Can you give me some feedback on this doc? Can you tell me what you think about this doc?

I needed some furniture - I needed a bed and a wardrobe.

IKEA furniture is very cheap.

She's doing a training course. She's doing some training.

Paper is becoming an expensive commodity.

She reads the paper (i.e. a newspaper) every day.

Guidelines

- Countable nouns are things we can count. They can be made plural using an 's' and can be preceded by a / an / one. Examples: A book, one book, two books; a plan, one plan, several plans
- Uncountable nouns are things we cannot count. They cannot be made plural using an 's' and cannot be preceded by a / an / one. They are often materials, liquids and abstract things. Examples: water, gold, health, baggage, proof, help
- Some words may be uncountable in English but countable in other languages. Examples: accommodation, advertising, advice, progress, traffic, work
- To express a quantity using an uncountable noun, you need to use particular words and expressions. Examples: Can you give me some feedback on my proposal? They're earning a great deal of money.
- In some cases (e.g. business, experience, glass, paper) nouns can be both countable or uncountable depending on their use. Example: Is there any wine left? This shop sells wines from Spain and Italy.

The following sentences contain mistakes regarding uncountable nouns that have mistakenly been used as if they were countable. Identify the mistakes and correct them

1. There are evidences that she stole the money.
2. I owe you ten dollars, I will give you them on Monday.
3. There are few knowledge about the best way to do this.
4. This causes many traffics on the network.
5. They are doing a research into rats.
6. We have made a progress.
7. We used a software in our calculations.
8. She had a good luck and won the prize.
9. He was playing a loud music.
10. It was such a bad weather that we had to go home.

KEY

1. There is evidence that she stole the money.
2. I owe you ten dollars, I will give you it on Monday.
3. There is little knowledge about the best way to do this.
4. This causes a lot of traffic on the network.
5. They are doing some research into rats.
6. We have made (some) progress.
7. We used a software application in our calculations.
8. She had good luck and won the prize.
9. He was playing loud music.
10. It was such bad weather that we had to go home.

Chapter 21

Each, Every, All, None

Almost each family has a fiber optic connection now.

Almost every family has a fiber optic connection now.

Each of the students were afraid.

All of the students were afraid.

All of the students were not afraid.

None of the students were afraid.

Each of us did not have an umbrella.

None of us had an umbrella.

Everyone are happy with the pay rise.

Everyone is happy with the pay rise.

The prices are low for every goods.

The prices are low for all the goods.

These oranges are $1 for each.

These oranges are $1 each.

Each correct answer is worth 10 points.

I know the name of every student in the school.

I could hear every word they said.

The train runs every three minutes.

None of the books is / are worth reading.

Everyone of us had been there before. We had all been there before.

Guidelines

- each + singular noun – focus on the individual rather than the group (e.g. The teacher gives each student individual attention.)
- every + singular noun – focus more on the group as a whole (e.g. Every student has to attend every course.) However, every can also be used when the stress is on the individual.
- all + uncountable noun or plural countable noun (e.g. I will give you all the information and all the books you need.)
- every and all are not generally used with not. This means that instead of saying: All the students / Every student did not pass the exam You should say: None of the students passed the exam. Or alternatively: All the students / Every student failed the exam.

Choose the correct form

1. At each / every / all age, girls and women face each / every / all other directly when sitting on public transport.
2. On the other hand, boys and men sit at angles to each / every / all other and so that they don't have to look at each / every / all other..
3. Data are refreshed each / every / all minute.
4. None of us could / Every one of us could not get to sleep.
5. Italian is a phonetic language in which each / every / all letters are pronounced distinctly - this means it is possible to pronounce each / every / all word in the language without having previously heard it.
6. In Japanese each / every / all syllable has the same length and strength.
7. In English nearly each / every / all word seem to follow their own rules.
8. The system automatically sends an email each / every / all third Thursday.
9. Each / Every / All mails that bounce back are then removed from the list of recipients.
10. All / None / Each of them could come to the party - so in the end the party was cancelled.

1) every, each 2) each, each 3) every 4) none of us could 5) all letters, every 6) each / every 7) all 8) every 9) all 10) none

Chapter 22

Few, Little, A Few, A Little

Few days ago I met him at the station.

A few days ago I met him at the station.

With the few money they gave me I was unable to buy fresh food.

With the little money they gave me I was unable to buy fresh food.

He knows a little about this subject, almost nothing in fact.

He knows little about this subject, almost nothing in fact.

Little people have seen this film.

Few people have seen this film.

We only have a few informations on this.

We only have a little information on this.

Few people know this. = Hardly anyone / Almost no one knows about this.

A few people know this. = Some people know this, but not many.

Little has been done to help the poor. = Not enough / Very very little has been done.

A little has been done to help the poor. = Something has been done, so a minimum amount of progress is being made.

Guidelines

- a little and little + singular uncountable noun.
- a few and few + plural noun.
- a little means 'something but not (too) much'; a few is the plural equivalent of a little.
- little means 'almost nothing', few means 'almost none'. Both few and little underline a negative situation.

Choose the correct form

1. She sounded a little / little / a few / few annoyed when I telephone her.
2. A few / Few / A little / Little business people can claim with any justification or credibility that they deserve to earn in one year what the population of an entire town in Africa earns in a decade.
3. Would you like a little / little / a few / few more to eat?
4. Do you think you could speak up a little / little / a few / few, please?
5. A few / Few / A little / Little is known about the real nature of ghosts, though a few / few / a little / little people claim to have seen them.
6. Have you got a little / little / a few / few minutes? I have a little / little / a few / few questions I would like to ask you.
7. I have made a little / little / a few / few changes to our plans, I hope that is OK with you, in any case a little / little / a few / few has changed in terms of the main ideas.

- 1) a little 2) few 3) a little 4) a little 5) little, a few 6) a few, a few 7) a few, little

Chapter 23

(This Is The) First Time, Second Time

This is only the second time I try Chinese food.

This is the only the second time I have tried Chinese food.

This is the first time we are all together.

This is the first time we have all been together.

This is the first time I am taking a language course.

This is the first time I have taken a language course.

It was the first time I traveled by plane.

It was the first time I had traveled by plane.

Is this the first time you come here?

Is this the first time you have come / been here?

It is the first time that I have worked like this. = I have never worked like this before.

This is the third time that I have told you this rule. = I have told you this rule three times before.

This is not the first time that I have come here. = I have been here before.

It was the first time that I had worked like that. = I had never worked so much in all my life.

Guidelines

- this is the first / second / third etc time that + present perfect (has / have + past participle). The present perfect is used because the sentence means From the day I was born up until the present day, I have never done a certain thing i.e. there is a connection between a point in the past (the day I was born) until the present time (i.e. today, the moment I am speaking).
- it was the first / second / third etc time that + past perfect (had + past participle). The past perfect is used because the sentence means From one particular moment in the past until another particular moment in the past, I had never done a certain thing.

Complete the second phrase so that it means the same as the first phrase

1. This is the first time that I have heard this music. = I have ____
 2. I have never done a presentation before. = This is the first time ____
 3. It was the first time she had seen the film. = She ____
 4. From the day I was born I this is only the second time I have come here. = I have ____
 5. They had never seen an elephant before. = That was the first time ____
 6. This is the first time I have understood this rule. = I ____
-
1. I have never heard this music before.
 2. This is the first time I have done a presentation.
 3. She had never seen the film before.
 4. I have only come / been here once before.
 5. That was the first time they had seen an elephant.
 6. I have never understood this rule before.

Chapter 24

Genitive: The Possessive Form of Nouns

This is the John's book.

This is John's book.

The lesson of Tuesday is canceled.

Tuesday's lesson is canceled.

The Trump's administration made many mistakes.

The Trump administration made many mistakes.

This is a typical everyday's problem.

This is a typical everyday problem.

This is an Alfred Hitchcock's movie.

This is an Alfred Hitchcock movie.

I read a Harry Potter's book.

I read a Harry Potter book / I read one of the books about Harry Potter.

My wife writes history books. She is writing a book on the history of England.

Look at this bookshelf. The books on the left are my books (i.e. books that I have bought) and those on the right are my wife's (i.e. books that she has bought).

My sister's husband is not coming to tomorrow's party.

I have many friends. I went to my friends' party (i.e. Jack and Jill's party) last night. The night before I went to my friend's house (i.e. Pete's house).

Guidelines

- The genitive (possessive form) is formed by adding 's after a singular noun, or simply an apostrophe (') after a plural noun or a noun that already ends in s (NB s's is also possible).
- The genitive indicates that something belongs to someone, to some group of people or to some animal e.g. John's book (this generally means that the book was bought by John and thus belongs to John).
- When we are talking about the author of a book or the director of a movie, often the genitive is not used. Compare I read a good Stephen King book vs Stephen King's new book is called xxx. I like Woody Allen movies vs Woody Allen's last movie was called xxx.
- The genitive can also be used in certain expressions of time and distance e.g. I am going a three weeks' time. It's a minute's walk from here.
- The genitive is not normally used with animate objects.

Choose the correct form

1. How do you measure a circle's area / the area of a circle?
 2. I have a software's / software problem.
 3. I studied at Cambridge's / Cambridge University.
 4. She has an Apple / Apple's iPhone 12.
 5. My professor's / professor lessons are really boring.
 6. It is mile's / mile walk from here.
 7. My two sisters' / sister's / sister children are coming today.
 8. I am watching a *Game of Thrones / Thrones' episode.
 9. This is the Helen's / Helen's / Helen car.
- 1) the area of a circle 2) software 3) Cambridge (or: the University of Cambridge)
4) Apple 5) professor's 6) mile's 7) sisters' 8) Thrones 9) Helen's

Chapter 25

Have, Have Got

Have you got a dog? Yes I've.

Have you got a dog? Yes I have.

Do you have time? Yes, I have got.

Do you have time? Yes, I do / Yes, I have.

Hypochondria is the one disease I don't have got.

Hypochondria is the one disease I don't have.

I've a meeting in 10 minutes, have you got one too?

I have a meeting in 10 minutes, do you have one too?

After buying the house, they had not very much money left.

After buying the house, they did not have very much money left.

Do you have time for a drink? Yes, I do. Sorry I don't.

We're having a party tomorrow.

She has / She's got two cars.

Did you have a good holiday? Yes, I did. No, I didn't.

I'm sorry I didn't have time to do the exercise.

Guidelines

- to have generally functions as a normal verb and so uses do and does as its auxiliaries. Contracted forms (I've, we've etc) are usually followed by got, which indicates possession only.
- got is only required to indicate possession, but is not necessary (I've got a car = I have a car). got cannot be used to indicate habits and activities such as I have got a shower every morning.
- the contracted forms I've, she's, they've must be just with got to indicate possession (she's got a dog, not: ~~she's a dog~~), otherwise the full form should be used (she has a dog).
- got is not generally used in the past. The past is had (+), didn't have (-), did you have (?), just like any other verb. Examples: I had a dog. I didn't have a dog. Did you have a dog?
- In short answers, never use the contracted forms. Have got a car? Yes, I have (Not: ~~Yes, I've~~).

Choose the correct form

1. She's / She's got a horse.
2. He has / He's lunch in his taxi.
3. They've / they've got a lot of time on their hands.
4. I've / I've got many gadgets for sale if you're interested.
5. Have you / Do you have a car?
6. I hadn't / didn't have many trips to do last year.
7. Have you / Do you have anything to drink?
8. We are having / having got a party, do you want to come?
9. I don't generally have / have got breakfast, I just go to a bar mid morning.
10. Do you have / you've your cell phone with you? Yes I've / I do.

1) she's got 2) he has 3) they've got 4) I've got 5) do you have 6) didn't have 7) do you have 8) having 9) have 10) you have, do

Chapter 26

Have Something Done

I am not going to make cut my hair by my mum.

I am not going to have my hair cut by my mum.

She is having her house to paint next week.

She is having her house painted next week.

Do you make clean your house by an outside service?

Do you have your house cleaned by an outside service?

I am having done my nails tomorrow.

I am having my nails done tomorrow.

I am getting a lifting to my face.

I am going to get a facelift.

They are having their house renovated.

I had / I got my hair cut yesterday.

We are having someone paint the living room for us.

She is having her tonsils removed.

I finally got her to tell the truth.

Guidelines

- to have / get something done (have / get + service + past participle) means to have a service carried out for you by someone else
- to have someone do something (have + person + infinitive + service) is another way of saying to have something done
- to get someone to do something means the same as to have someone do something, but note that to get requires the infinitive with to
- don't confuse to have someone do something with to make someone do something. to make means to force / oblige. Thus, I made him clean the house means that I forced him to clean the house against probably against his will

Choose the correct form

1. She is having an online service to write / write an essay for her.
2. She's getting / letting someone do / to do the gardening for her - she's so lazy.
3. I am having my car to fix / fixed next week.
4. She is having died her hair / her hair dyed at the hairdresser's.
5. The company are having built / building a new office.
6. They are having the office built / building by a construction company.
7. They get all their printing to do / done externally.
8. I'll get / have my secretary do the photocopies.
9. I'll get / have my husband to give you a call.
10. Are you doing the painting yourself or are you having done the painting / the painting done for you?

- 1) write 2) getting, to do 3) fixed 4) her hair dyed 6) building 7) built 8) have
9) have 10) the painting done

Chapter 27

How Long, How Much Time, How Many Times

How long time do you live here?

How long have you been living here?

From how much time have you been working for yourself?

How long have you been working for yourself?

How much time have you seen this movie?

How many times have you seen this movie?

How time do we have to do this exercise?

How much time do we have to do this exercise?

Who knows how long she is crying.

Who knows how long she has been crying.

How long have you been living in London?

How long will you be staying here?

How many times have you been to New York? I have been to New York six times.

How much time do we have available? Just a couple of hours.

Guidelines

- Use how long to find out the duration of a particular activity. Note: how long is found with the PRESENT PERFECT (CONTINUOUS) when it refers to an action that began in the past and is still true today. Example: How long have you been studying / have you studied English? (implies that you are still studying English now). When used with the simple past, how long refers to a completed action. Example: How long did your first marriage last? (implies that your first marriage is over / finished).
- how long can also be used with reference to the future. In any case, the form how long time does not exist.
- how many times is used to find out the number of times someone has done a particular activity. Note the concordance in the use of the plural forms - many + -s (times).
- the word time in how much time, refers to minutes, hours, days, etc.

Choose the correct form

1. How time / much time are you planning to stay here?
2. How many times / much time do you have to ring the bell before they answer?
3. How long do you work / have you been working here?
4. How long time / long are you here for? I am leaving the day after tomorrow.
5. How many times / much time do you think it will take to complete this exercise?
6. How many times / much time do you think you will need to practise this piece before you can do it perfectly?

1) much time 2) many times 3) have you been working 4) long 5) much time 6) both forms are possible

Chapter 28

-ing Form vs the Infinitive

To cook is a very enjoyable activity.

Cooking is a very enjoyable activity.

After to teach you I will go home.

After teaching you I will go home.

I look forward to hear from you.

I look forward to hearing from you.

While to watch the film I fell asleep.

While watching the film I fell asleep.

How long will it take for reaching the next town?

How long will it take to reach the next town?

To have a good memory you need to do a specialized course.

Having a good memory is really useful.

Before using it you need to attach the headphones.

I look forward to hearing from you.

We would like to inform you that we have decided to accept your proposal.

This programme allows / enables / permits you to write spreadsheets.

I persuaded him to let me use his mobile.

Guidelines

- The -ing form focuses on the activity (e.g. Learning English is easy). The infinitive form focuses on the objective or what you have to do to achieve an objective (e.g. To learn English you need to study hard).
- Use the -ing form immediately after before, after, by, about, on, for, in, to etc.
- Use the -ing form after verbs that express: a) ideas, advice, e.g. recommend, propose, suggest (see Chapter 1); b) how much we enjoy or enjoyed something, e.g. like, love, hate, enjoy (see Chapter 30); c) -ing is also used after verbs: risk, avoid, spend time, mind.
- Use the infinitive a) when you focus on a purpose or objective, e.g. would like, want, plan, promise, decide, hope; b) when you tell someone what they can do or what we want them to do: allow, ask, enable, expect, help, instruct, permit, persuade, tell.
- Use the infinitive generally after adjectives and with how. Examples: It's easy to use. If you like I'll show you how to use one.

Choose the correct form

1. Studying / To study English is more difficult than people think.
2. We are in the process of reconstruct / reconstructing our website.
3. Thank you for your help in solve / solving this problem.
4. Sorry for the delay in to get / getting back to you.
5. Making / to make cakes is easy but making / to make a cake you need the right ingredients.
6. If you need any further details do not hesitate to contact / contacting me.
7. Playing / To play football is fun, but playing / to play really well you need to train most days a week.
8. I look forward to do / doing business with you and showing you how using / to use our products.
9. Most Italians enjoy spending / to spend time with their family.
10. It's not difficult learning / to learn - you will soon get the hang of it.

1) studying 2) reconstructing 3) solving 4) getting 5) making, to make 6) to contact
7) playing / to play 8) doing, to use 9) spending 10) to learn

Chapter 29

Languages and Nationalities

Did you learn the Greek at school?

Did you learn Greek at school?

He speaks a good English.

He speaks good English.

She doesn't know the English.

She doesn't speak English.

The Spanish is simpler than the English.

Spanish is simpler than English.

English are a strange race.

The English are a strange race.

I met one English and one Dutch.

I met an English person and a Dutch person.

I met someone from England and someone from Holland.

There were two Japaneses on the train.

There were two Japanese people / men / women on the train.

English is a relatively easy language.

For some people, the English spoken in the UK is more pure than the English spoken in the US.

The English are a conservative race.

He comes from Wales, he is Welsh, he speaks Welsh. The Welsh are very patriotic.

I met an Italian, two Americans, many Albanians and several Chinese people.

Guidelines

- Languages are not countable, this means that you cannot put a / an in front of them. Example: They speak ~~an~~ amazing French.
- Languages do not require the unless you are differentiating between varieties of the same language. Example: The French spoken in Belgium is different from the French spoken in Canada.
- We generally say to speak a language rather than to know.
- Nationalities that end in -ese, -ss and -h do not have a plural form. So instead of saying two ~~Chinenses~~ you have to say two Chinese people (or two Chinese men / women / children etc). Likewise, although you can say Italians / Americans love pasta you cannot say English love pasta, instead say The English / The Swiss / The Portuguese love pasta or alternatively English people / Swiss people / Portuguese people love pasta.

Choose the correct form

1. Her students all speak a perfect / perfect English.
2. Spanish / The Spanish is quite similar to the Italian / Italian.
3. I know / speak Japanese quite well.
4. There are several Chineses / forms of Chinese - the main one is the Mandarin / Mandarin.
5. The French / French I learned at school did not help me at all when I first lived in France.
6. In my class there is a Senegalese / a Senegalese student who speaks French / the French.
7. The French / French are quite patriotic and I admire the way they try to promote their culture over American culture.
8. The Americans / Americans tend to be quite loud, particularly the Americans / Americans that I met in Texas.

1) perfect 2) Spanish, Italian 3) speak 4) forms of Chinese, Mandarin 5) the French 6) a Senegalese student, French 7) the French 8) Americans (the Americans), the Americans (i.e. specific Americans)

Chapter 30

Like, Love, Prefer

Would you like going to the movies with me?

Would you like to go to the movies with me?

Do you like me to show you how to do it?

Would you like me to show you how to do it?

She doesn't like when I use a curse word.

She doesn't like it when I use a curse word.

They prefer living in the country more than living in a town.

They prefer living in the country to living in a town.

I like smoke.

I like smoking / to smoke.

If you don't mind I would prefer going to bed.

If you don't mind I would prefer to go to bed.

I don't prefer to go now.

I would prefer not to go now. I would rather not go now.

I don't like that he eats with his mouth open.

I don't like him eating with his mouth open.

I like / liked playing tennis. (GB) I like / liked to play tennis. (US)

I would like to play tennis. (GB and US)

I like to play tennis in the morning rather than the afternoon. (habit)

I like playing tennis with Tom because I always win. (enjoyment)

I don't like it when she beats me at tennis.

I would prefer to play with Tom than with Rick.

I would prefer not to go alone.

Wouldn't you prefer to go out to dinner rather than cooking at home tonight?

Guidelines

- Generally speaking, use the -ing form after like (and love) and prefer when these verbs are in the present or past, and the infinitive form when they are in the conditional form.
- Do not use the present tense with like and prefer when you are asking about a present situation rather than a habitual situation e.g. Would you prefer / like to go now? rather than Do you prefer / like to go now?
- After like (and love) use it in expressions such as I like / love it when he holds my hand.
- When comparing two items use I prefer x to y. Do not use than in such cases.
- There is a subtle (but not very important) difference between, for example, I like + infinitive and I like + ing. The infinitive focuses on my particular habits (i.e. this is what I usually do). The -ing form focuses on my enjoyment of the activity.

Choose the correct form

1. I would prefer going / to go there later.
2. Why do you prefer jazz than / to classical music?
3. I love / would love to watch a movie tonight.
4. Do / Would you like to come with me?
5. Do / Would you generally prefer white or red wine?
6. I like it / like when we do listening exercises in class.
7. I love watching / to watch sports live - it is so much more fun than watching sports on TV.
8. Do / Would you prefer waiting / to wait, or do you want to go straightaway?
9. I like eating / to eat pizza - it's my favorite food.
10. I like eating / to eat pizza with beer rather than wine - this is my preference and I've noticed that Italians prefer to do / doing this too.

1) to go 2) to 3) would love 4) would 5) do 6) like it 7) watching 8) would, to wait
9) eating (to eat) 10) to eat, to do

Chapter 31

Make vs Let

She let us to leave early.

She let us leave early.

They let us to think that they were experts in the field.

They made us think that they were experts in the field.

They made us work on our own, which was great because we all like working independently.

They let us work on our own, which was great because we all like working independently.

He made me to study all the rules.

He made me study all the rules.

Do you make build your house by a construction company?

Are you having your house built by a construction company?

The mother made her son stay at home. He wanted to go out but she wouldn't let him go.

The mother let her son stay at home because he didn't want to go to school.

The teacher made the bad student stay behind after the lesson.

They made us work more than twelve hours a day six days a week.

We were made to work twelve hours a day. = They made us work.

We were not allowed to go home unless we had worked twelve hours = They didn't let us go.

Guidelines

- to make someone do something means to oblige or force someone to do something, probably against their will.
- to let someone do something means to give them permission, to allow them.
- in the active form to make and to let take the infinitive without to. Examples: They made me ~~to~~ confess and then they let me ~~to~~ go.
- in the passive form to make requires the infinitive with to. Example: I was made to wait five hours before being seen by the doctor.
- there is no passive form of to let, instead to be allowed is used. My teacher let me use a dictionary = I was allowed (by the teacher) to use a dictionary.
- don't confuse to make someone do something with TO HAVE SOMEONE DO SOMETHING. to make means to force / oblige, whereas have someone do something means to get a third party to do a task for you.

Choose the correct form

1. They let us to go / go together but made us to promise / promise not to talk to each other.
2. We made / were made to be together, I don't want to make / let anything get in our way.
3. After much insistence on our part, they let / made us pay for the meal.
4. The restaurant manager let / made us pay for the meal even though we told her it was inedible.
5. They are making / letting me work / to work overtime despite all my protests.
6. My mother makes / lets me do my homework, even if I don't want to do it.
7. Will you let / make me go / to go please - you're hurting me.
8. She wasn't let / allowed to go inside the pub because she was underage.
9. I let / made him stay for a week even though it was really inconvenient for me.
10. I made / got / had an online service to write my thesis for me.

1) go, promise 2) were made, let 3) let 4) made 5) making, work 6) makes 7) let, go
8) allowed 9) let 10) had

Chapter 32

Much, Many, A Lot of, Lots of

I have much work at the moment.

I have a lot of work at the moment.

How much times have you been there?

How many times have you been there?

Was there much people?

Were there many people?

You don't need many money to do this.

You don't need much / a lot of money to do this.

There are many evidences to support this view.

There is a lot of evidence to support this view.

There are many softwares to do this.

There are many software applications / is a lot of software to do this.

I have a lot of / lots of / many friends.

I don't have many (a lot of) enemies.

I have a lot of time.

I don't have much (a lot of) time.

We have a lot of information.

We do not have much information.

Does he earn a lot of / lots of / much money?

Guidelines

- much - used with UNCOUNTABLE NOUNS (see Chapter 20), generally in negative and interrogative.
- many - used with plural nouns, generally in negative and interrogative.
- a lot of - used with all nouns, typically in the affirmative but also in the interrogative.
- lots of - can replace a lot of in affirmative, but lots of is not suitable for formal situations. lots of is very rarely used in negative phrases, and is also quite rare in questions.

Choose the correct form(s). Note: read the section on UNCOUNTABLE NOUNS (see Chapter 20), before doing this exercise

1. Are there a lot of / lots of / many / much teachers at this school?
2. How much / many friends do you have on Facebook?
3. I have a lot of / lots of / many / much books on this subject.
4. Do you have a lot of / lots of / many students from Africa?
5. We don't have a lot of / lots of / many students from Africa.
6. We have a lot of homework / much homework / many homeworks to do tonight.
7. We don't have lots of homework / much homework / many homeworks to do tonight.
8. There aren't many options / isn't much option left I'm afraid.
9. There aren't many wines / isn't much wine left in the bottle I'm afraid.
10. This supermarket sells much wine / many wines from all over the world.
11. Do you have much baggage / many baggages with you? Yes, I have a lot of / much suitcases.
12. There is much / there are many / there are a lot of staff on duty today.
13. The earthquake created a lot of damage / much damage / many damages.
14. I have a lot of / lots of / much / many news to tell you.
15. The house doesn't have much furniture / many furnitures in it.
16. They did a lot of training / much training / many trainings to learn how to be a teacher.
17. We haven't made lots of progress / much progress / many progresses so far.
18. She gave me a lot of advice / much advice / many advices.
19. Was there a lot of traffic / much traffic / many traffics on the road today?
20. How much feedback / many feedbacks do you get from your boss?

1) a lot of / many 2) many 3) a lot of / lots of / many 4) many (a lot of) 5) many (a lot of) 6) a lot of homework 7) much homework 8) aren't many option 9) isn't much wine 10) many wines 11) much baggage 12) a lot of 13) a lot of damage 14) a lot of / lots of 15) much furniture 16) a lot of training 17) much progress 18) a lot of advice 19) much (a lot of) 20) much feedback

Chapter 33

Must vs Have To

I must change train in Rome - there is no train that goes direct.

I have to change train in Rome - there is no train that goes direct.

I must be at work before 10 every morning - although my boss is quite flexible.

I have to be [I am supposed to be] at work before 10 every morning - although my boss is quite flexible.

Have you to do it immediately?

Do you have to do it immediately?

I've to go now - sorry.

I have to go now - sorry.

At our school we must arrive at 8.0.

At our school we have to arrive at 8.0. We have to be at school at 8.0.

Teacher to young children: You must study.

Student: You have to study a lot on this course.

Mother to young child: You must eat your food.

Child: My mother says I have to eat all my vegetables.

Police officer to car driver: You must wear a seatbelt at all times.

English person to foreigner: In England you have to wear a seatbelt.

Guidelines

- have to is used to talk about our general responsibilities. Thus, to show that an obligation probably comes from some other person not from us use have to. Examples: Every day I have to catch the train to work. We have to arrive at work before nine. I have to do a lot of work around the house. In all these cases the speaker receives an obligation from another person or simply explains that the choice does not necessarily depend on them.
- have to behaves like a regular verb: I have to, she has to; Do I have to, Does she have to? I don't have to, She doesn't have to. I had to, She had to; Did you have to, Did she have to; I didn't have to, She didn't have to - use the full form of have: I have to and not ~~I've to~~
- must is used much less frequently than to have to. It is used when an authority gives a 'subordinate' an order (e.g. police officer to citizen, parent to child) - such situations are rare. It is also used to give a very strong recommendation or when there is a real emergency / urgency. Examples: You must go and see that movie – you would love it. Doctor, you must come immediately. I really must answer her email otherwise I might lose a great opportunity.

Underline the most suitable form

1. Have I / Do I have to tell him? Yes, you do / have.
2. Could you send his email address as I think I must / have to got his old one.
3. I know you must / have to be very busy but ...
4. I'm sorry, but I'll must / have to interrupt you - I must / have to take this call.
5. I must / have to go to the dentist for regular check ups.
6. Sorry but your email must / has to have gone into the spam.
7. We generally have to / must be at work before 09.30.
8. You have to / must come and see us when you're next in town.
9. Notice: Helmets must be worn on the building site at all times.
10. Do you have to / Must you clock in when you go to work?

1) do I have, do 2) must 3) must 4) have to, have to 5) have to 6) must 7) have to 8) must 9) must 10) do you have

Chapter 34

Must Not Vs Do Not Have To

He was left a lot of money so he hasn't to work.

He was left a lot of money so he does not have to work.

We have not to do a written exam, just an oral one.

We do not have to do a written exam, just an oral one.

Thank you but you hadn't to go to so much trouble.

Thank you but you didn't have to go [you should not have gone] to so much trouble.

You do not have feed the animals.

[Please] don't feed the animals.

You have not to smoke in enclosed public spaces.

You mustn't smoke in enclosed public spaces.

Haven't we to go now?

Don't we have to go now?

I'd like you to help me with this, but it hasn't to be now.

I'd like you to help me with this, but I can't now.

You don't have to come if you don't want to. = You don't need to come ...

You mustn't come before 6 o'clock or you will ruin the surprise. = I absolutely don't want you to come.

You mustn't smoke in a non-smoking compartment. = This is the law.

You don't have to do a written exam, just an oral. = There is no written exam.

Guidelines

- to have to behaves like a regular verb. So the negative form is doesn't have to, don't have to, didn't have to. The forms haven't to, haven't to and haven't to are not correct.
- do / doesn't not have to is used to talk about something that is not our responsibility or is not necessary. There is no obligation.
- use must not and not don't have to to prohibit something, typically in instructions and notices that give warnings or very strong recommendations.
- there is no past form of must not, often was / were not allowed is used to express the concept of prohibition in the past.
- when giving instructions we often use please don't rather than you mustn't.

1. Don't you have to / Haven't you to stop off at Hong Kong when you fly to Sydney?
2. We didn't have / hadn't to drive because there was a great train service.
3. Didn't they have / Hadn't they to show any ID?
4. We don't have to / mustn't work tomorrow because it's a public holiday.
5. You don't have to / mustn't do it now, it can wait.
6. You don't have to / mustn't touch that it will give you an electric shock.
7. You don't have to / must not smoke in enclosed public spaces.
8. We don't have to / must not do this now, we can do it later.
9. She doesn't have to / mustn't prepare my lessons any more - she is very experienced.
10. You don't have to / mustn't say anything to him - promise me that you won't say a word.

1) don't you have to 2) didn't have to 3) didn't they have 4) don't have to 5) don't have to 6) mustn't 7) must not 8) don't have to 9) doesn't have to 10) mustn't

Chapter 35

Numbers, Dates and Measurements

They are about 50 km from here to there.

It is about 50 km from here to there.

A million euros are a lot of money.

A million euros is a lot of money.

We are leaving on the 21th of August.

We are leaving on the 21st of August / on August 21.

How did the exercise go? Well, I think I got the six wrong.

Well, I think I got the sixth (question) wrong.

There were two hundreds people at the concert.

There were two hundred people at the concert.

I got about the 50% of the answers correct.

I got about 50% of the answers correct.

He is tall one meter and eighty.

He is one meter eighty tall. He is 1.8 m tall.

They won the match three at zero.

They won the match three nil / three zero.

Three hundred dollars is about three hundred and twenty euros.

Hundreds of people went on the demonstration.

Three weeks is a long time when you are in prison.

60 square meters is enough for me - I don't need much space.

It is seven meters long / high / wide.

Approximately 75% of Americans believe in alien abduction.

How is the test going? I am up to number seven.

Today is the twenty third of May. / Today is May the twenty third. / Today is May 23 / 23 May.

The final score was three one (3-1).

Guidelines

- When hundred, thousand, billion are preceded by another number (e.g. three hundred) no -s plural is required. You can say hundreds, thousands etc to mean 'several hundred / thousand' (e.g. Hundreds / thousands of people are becoming victims every day).
- Quantities are considered singular (e.g. three kilos is ..., 500 km is ...).
- When referring to measurements note the word order: I am two meters tall (verb + measurement + adjective).
- The definite article (the) is not required before percentages (~~the~~ 10%) or questions in a test (I found ~~the~~ number three difficult).
- Dates can be said in various ways. When writing it is best to avoid -th, -st and -rd, because you may attach them to the wrong number (e.g. March 2th instead of March 21st or simply March 21).
- Sports scores are said without a preposition: We won six four (6-4).

Choose the correct form

1. Two dollars is not much / are not many for a coffee.
2. The wall is about four meters high / high about four meters.
3. According to the survey, about 60% / about the 60% of people plan to vote for the Democrats.
4. It is / They are about 500 miles from here to Sacramento.
5. There were three thousand / thousands attendees at the conference.
6. Millions / Million of people are likely to become infected.
7. Real Madrid lost to Manchester United four to one / four one.
8. They are going on the 23th / 23rd of December.
9. How did the exam go? Well, I had some problem with the eight / eighth question and with the question nine / question nine.
10. 1.5 kilo / kilos of pasta is / are far too much / many for one person to eat at one meal.

1) is not much 2) about 4 m high 3) about 60% 4) it is 5) thousand 6) millions 7) four one 8) 23rd 9) eighth, question nine 10) kilos, is, much

Chapter 36

Passive vs Active

The accident was happened yesterday.

The accident happened yesterday.

The Second World War was broken out in 1939.

The Second World War broke out in 1939.

In her childhood she was undergone many hardships.

In her childhood she underwent many hardships.

In that area they are suffered from many natural calamities.

In that area they suffer from many natural calamities.

They were gradually disappeared into darkness.

They gradually disappeared into darkness.

In the book it is written that the prime minister knew nothing.

The book says / states / claims that the prime minister knew nothing.

He was suspected of fraud. = They suspected him of fraud.

A new party will be elected. = They will elect a new party.

Your bike may be stolen. = Someone may steal your bike.

Many demonstrators are killed in riots. = The police kill many demonstrators in riots.

He has been promoted at work. = He received a promotion.

They have promoted the movie all over the world. = The movie is being promoted.

Guidelines

- The active form is created using to have + past participle, it is never formed with to be.
- to be + past participle is only used to form the passive (never the active) - for more details see BE VS HAVE (Chapter 10).
- The passive form tends to be used: 1) When you are more interested in the person or object that experiences an action than the person or object that performs the action e.g. The New York stock exchange was founded in 1792. 2) When you don't know or cannot (or don't want to) express who or what performed the action e.g. Four hundred thousand credit cards are stolen every year. 3) To describe processes e.g. The chemicals are transported by truck and are then delivered to the factory.

Choose the correct form

1. Fifty thousand copies sold / were sold last year.
2. The inflation is / has gone up.
3. The concept of a self-driving car is that the car drives / is driven itself, it does not drive / is not driven by the passengers.
4. He is / has bought himself a car.
5. It decided / was decided that the service should discontinue / be discontinued.
6. Your taxi is / has arrived.
7. She was / had taken to the airport.
8. The machine was / had stopped for repairs.
9. An important document had / had been lost.
10. It agreed / had agreed / was agreed to spread the redundancies over six months.
11. Your email has forwarded / has been forwarded to the marketing department.
12. The form should complete / be completed in black ink.
13. An analysis was / had carried out of the samples.
14. The photocopier left / had left / was left on all night.
15. It had decided / had been decided to try to impeach Trump.

1) were sold 2) drives, is not driven 3) has 4) has 5) was decided, be discontinued 6) has 7) was 8) was 9) had been 10) was agreed 11) has been forwarded 12) be completed 13) was 14) was left 15) had been decided

Chapter 37

People vs Person; Men, Human

The people in the office is friendly.

The people in the office are friendly.

Ten persons are coming to my party.

Ten people are coming to my party.

She spoke while all the other persons listened and then fell asleep.

She spoke while all the other people listened and then fell asleep.

Most of students have read this book.

Most students have read this book.

The most people that I know have stopped using Facebook.

Most people that I know have stopped using Facebook.

A drug addict is a man who is dependent on drugs.

A drug addict is someone / a person who is dependent on drugs.

I'm nothing other than a man, there is nothing I can do about it.

I'm only human, there is nothing I can do about it.

Who builds houses knows how to put up a roof.

People / Those who build houses know .. Builders know ... A builder knows ...

People / Those who swim every day tend to be very fit.

Most people have access to the internet.

The person I spoke to the phone said that they didn't know what I was talking about.

A politician is someone who ...

I met this person at a party who was a politician.

Trump is a dangerous man.

Guidelines

- people is followed by a plural verb. persons is generally only used in a very formal context e.g. when talking about the capacity of a lift (max. capacity 6 persons).
- Do not begin an affirmative sentence with who (~~Who teaches English knows many things~~) when you mean a person who or those people who.
- Do not use man (or he, him, his) to refer to a generic person, use someone or person, or on some occasions human. For more details see PRONOUNS (Chapter 40).
- To talk about a majority of people use this construction: most + type of person in plural form (e.g. most teachers, most politicians, most doctors). Only use most of when you are making a qualification: Most of the teachers that I know are ... Most of the children who live near me are ...

Choose the correct form

1. The people I meet on my travels tend / tends to be very similar to me - I think of it / them as friends.
2. There was little / were few people at the party.
3. The most part of people / Most people / The most people / Most of the people that I know voted for her.
4. He is rather shy and doesn't like it with too many peoples / too many people / too much people around him.
5. Our lawyer is quite a young people / person.
6. A doctor is a man / a woman / a person / someone who looks after patients who are ill.
7. Notice: This lift is only designed to carry eight people / peoples / persons.
8. She is only human / a woman, she cannot be expected to do 20 things at the same time.
9. Who lives / Those who live / People who live round here have to be very careful as there are a lot of break-ins.

1) tend, them 2) were few 3) most people / most of the people 4) too many people
 5) a person / someone 6) someone (a person) 7) persons 8) human 9) those who live / people who live

Chapter 38

Present Perfect vs Past Simple

When have you seen her? This morning? Yesterday?

When did you see her? This morning? Yesterday?

He has left Shanghai for a long time.

He left Shanghai a long time ago.

I have come to Shanghai three years.

I have been in Shanghai for three years. / I came to Shanghai three years ago.

My email address changed, I will give you the new one.

My email address has changed, I will give you the new one.

They have moved here in 2018.

They moved here in 2018.

They have left a few minutes ago.

They left a few minutes ago.

From last week I have changed my class.

I changed class last week.

I worked there from 2014 to 2017 (finished period).

I have worked / have been working there since 2018 (unfinished period - I still work there).

She set up the company in 2018. She has set up many companies in the last ten years.

They went to the bar an hour ago. They have been at the bar for an hour.

I bought these books at the new book shop. I 've bought so many books that I don't know where to put them.

Last year you made a lot of progress. I can see that you 've made a lot of progress this year too.

The stock market crashed twice last year. The stock market has crashed twice this year and it's only August.

We have redesigned our website - take a look at it. We originally designed it five years ago.

Guidelines

- Your choice of present perfect or simple past will often depend on the time expressions you use. In the examples in the grey shaded box above, these time expressions are in italics. See also Chapter 39.

Don't use the present perfect in the following cases:

- to talk about completed actions in the recent past (even one second ago) or the distant past.
- to say when something happened (e.g. yesterday, last week, when she was at university, many years ago) you must use the simple past and not the present perfect.
- with time expressions typically associated with the simple past: yesterday, last night, a few minutes ago, in 1945, when, then, before, after etc.

Choose the correct form. In one case both forms are possible.

1. I have been there two weeks ago / before.
2. They have come back this morning / just come back.
3. We've done two exercises so far / this week.
4. They've emailed five times yesterday / in the last three hours.
5. They haven't done it last week / still haven't done it.
6. They have worked here in 2018 / since 2018.
7. She has been a professor for many years / in 2017.
8. They have won all their matches last season / this season.
9. Were you ever in Mongolia? / in Mongolia for your holidays?
10. Have you seen her today / yesterday?

1) before 2) just come back 3) so far / this week 4) in the last three hours 5) still haven't done it 6) since 2012 7) for many years 8) this season 9) in Mongolia for your holidays? 10) today

Chapter 39

Present Perfect With For and Since

I am here since last week.

I have been here since last week.

I live here all my life.

I have lived here all my life.

She is living here since May / for several months.

She has been living here since May / for several months.

They have been here from yesterday.

They have been here since yesterday.

They have implemented this new policy since 2017.

They implemented this new policy in 2017.

I have worked here for six months. (NB Not: ~~I work here for six months~~).

I worked for Google from 2012 to 2017, now I work for Apple.

I worked for Google for six years.

I have been working in Apple for five years.

I have been here since 11 o'clock / since 2005 / since last week.

I didn't study English at school, but I studied French for five years.

I have studied English since I left school.

We have been studying English for many years.

Guidelines

- When talking about an action's duration use for if you talk about the period / duration of time, and since when you say when the action began. Examples:
for six years, for a long time, for more than an hour since 2017, since January, since he joined the company
- When you talk about when something began (since) or its duration (for), you need to use the present perfect (e.g. I have lived) and not the present simple (e.g. I live).
- Note that for and since can also be used in a phrase that contains the past tense:
I worked there for 10 years = now I work somewhere else.
I have worked here since I left school (if I left school in 2015, I could say I have worked here since 2015. Consequently, since I left school is the equivalent of a precise time)
- Do not confuse for and since with from. Use from to talk about a range of time: I worked there from 2015 to 2017. They studied from 9 until 10.
- Note the difference: I am here for a month = My plan is to stay here for a month. I have been here for a month = I arrived here one month ago and I am still here.

Write for or since into the spaces in 1-10, and choose the correct form for 11-20

1. _____ about three weeks
2. _____ Monday
3. _____ a long time
4. _____ a year
5. _____ 2017
6. _____ my birthday
7. _____ last week
8. _____ the Middle Ages
9. _____ over a month
10. _____ too long
11. I am / have been here for six months.
12. I know / have known Mary since July.
13. She has / has had that house all her life
14. I am / have been here for a week and I'm leaving tomorrow.
15. I live / have lived here since I was born.
16. I live / have lived in a small flat near the center.
17. She knows / has known him all her life.
18. She knows / has known him very well.
19. They are / have been here for a month, they arrived last week.
20. We introduced / have introduced the new policy since / in May last year.

1) for about three weeks 2) since Monday 3) for a long time 4) for a year 5) since 2017 6) since my birthday 7) since last week 8) since the Middle Ages 9) for over a month 10) for too long 11) have been 12) have known 13) has had 14) have been 15) have live 16) live 17) has known 18) knows 19) are 20) introduced, in

Chapter 40

Pronouns

If someone is interested he adds his name to the list.

If someone is interested they can add their name to the list.

If you are interested then you can add your name to the list.

Someone had parked his car in the middle of the street.

Someone had parked their car in the middle of the street.

Someone called for you this morning but he didn't leave his name.

Someone called for you this morning but they didn't leave their name.

A man / woman called for you this morning but he / she (they) didn't leave his / her (their) name.

(On the phone) Who is speaking? I am Anna.

(On the phone) Who is speaking? It's me (Anna). / This is Anna.

The job is not as easy as someone might expect.

The job is not as easy as you / one might expect.

With this app the user can do x and he can also do y.

With this app users can do x and they can also do y.

With this app you can do x and you can also do y.

If someone has a commercial activity they will suffer in an economic crisis.

If you have a commercial activity you will suffer in an economic crisis.

People who have a commercial activity will suffer in an economic crisis.

They will find it hard.

Someone rang but they didn't leave their name.

A man (woman) rang but he (she) didn't leave his (her) name.

The user has to insert their (his/her) password before accessing the site. = Users have to insert their ...

If you have a lawyer then you can ask them for an opinion.

She has just had a baby. Is it a boy or a girl? It's a girl.

One never knows what one's future will hold, does one? (very formal, pompous, archaic)

You never know what your future will hold, do you? (normal form)

Guidelines

- he (him, his) should never be used as a generic pronoun, e.g. to refer to a generic lawyer, engineer, doctor etc. These are all jobs that can be done by women too. So use they, them, their.
- When someone (meaning one particular person) is the subject of the sentence, use they as the pronoun; however if someone refers to a generic person (i.e. everyone in such a situation), then prefer you.
- When asking the sex of a child or an animal use it. Also use it to refer to someone unseen: I can hear someone in the next room, I wonder who it is.
- When announcing who you are on the phone, use this or it: This is John speaking. It's John here.
- The impersonal pronoun one is very formal, prefer you.
- In written documents avoid using he / she by making the subject plural and using they. In any case, even with a singular subject (e.g. the user) you can still use the plural pronoun (they, them, their).

Choose the correct form

1. Someone telephoned for you while you were out, but he / they didn't leave his / their name.
2. If you know a person well, then you can tell him / them what you really think.
3. Somebody knocked at the door and then he / they went away.
4. The user then clicks on the icon. A menu opens and he / she / he/she / they can then see the various options.
5. A: Do you have a doctor? B: Yes. A: Well ask him / them what he thinks / they think.
6. In this class if someone has / you have a problem, he / they / you can ask the teacher.
7. If one has / you have a problem, one / you can ask the teacher for help.
8. Someone is at the door, go and see who it / he is.

1) they, their 2) them 3) they 4) they (he / she) 5) them, they think 6) you have, you 7) you have, you 8) it

Chapter 41

So, Too, Very, That + Adjective

My job is not so interesting.

My job is not that / very / particularly interesting.

They are not so big companies.

They are not very / particularly big companies.

The film was too good.

The film was very / really / incredibly good.

Sorry but this food is too for me.

Sorry but this is too much food for me.

Sorry, but I don't agree with you. The book was not so interesting.

Sorry, but I don't agree with you. The book was not that interesting.

The film is very good - I recommend it.

The film is so good that I think everyone should see it.

She is a really great actress. She is too good to be in a B movie like that. The movie was terrible.

A: The film was absolutely fantastic. B: No, I didn't think it was that good.

Guidelines

- very + adjective expresses approval and maybe followed by some other compliment or positive aspect e.g. You are very good students - it's a pleasure to teach you.
- so + adjective expresses great approval and often suggests a possible consequence e.g. You are so good that I think you could actually be teaching the class!
- too + adjective indicates that there is an excess of something. This excess can be negative (e.g. This exercise is too hard) or potentially positive (e.g. You are too good for this class, I think I need to put you in a higher level).
- that + adjective is often used to qualify or contradict what someone has just said e.g. A: You are an excellent student. B: I don't think I am that good - I make lots of mistakes.
- too much / many indicates an excess quantity of something, but without necessarily pointing at a consequence e.g. I drank too much wine and ate too many cakes.
- so much / many indicates a big quantity that generally has a consequence e.g. I drank so much wine and had so many cakes that I was ill.
- that much is often used to qualify or contradict what someone has just said e.g. I don't think you had that much mine or even ate that many cakes - I don't know what you are talking about.

Choose the correct form

1. You are a very / so / too / that beautiful person. I will never forget you.
2. A: You are very / so / too / that beautiful to work in an office you should be a model. B: You are very / so / too / that sexist, I can't believe you just said that.
3. They give us very / so / too / that much work but they pay us well.
4. They give us very / so / too / that much work that sometimes I have to work till midnight to get it finished.
5. They don't give us very / so / too / that much work, in fact sometimes we hardly have anything to do.
6. There are very / so / too / that many things I want to tell you, I don't know where to start.
7. There are very / so / too / that many things to tell you now, we don't have enough time.
8. A: He gave a great performance. I really enjoyed the play. B: I'm sorry but if he was very / so / too / that good why did he forget his lines?
9. Don't give me very / so / too / that much wine or I will get drunk.
10. A: So, over a thousand people work in that company, that's very / so / too / that large, isn't it? B: Well actually it's not very / so / too / that large, it's quite normal for an engineering company.
11. You are very / so / too / that lucky to have such a job.
12. He's not very / so / too / that good at this job, I wouldn't be surprised if he loses it.

- 1) very 2) too, so 3) too 4) so 5) that 6) so 7) too 8) that 9) too (so) 10) very, that 11) very / so 12) very / that

Chapter 42

So, Such, So Many, So Much

He is a such nice person.

He is such a nice person.

I didn't have so great expectations.

I didn't have such great expectations.

It is not so strong accent.

It is not such a strong accent.

It was a so short time.

It was such a short time.

I have so things to do.

I have so many things to do.

You are so intelligent that you could do any job.

You are such an intelligent woman.

You are such intelligent women.

I have so much work to do, I don't know how I will manage. = I have such a lot of work to do, I don't know how I will manage.

Guidelines

- so + adjective + that + consequence e.g. Your English is so good that you could do the exam tomorrow.
- such + adjective + uncountable noun e.g. You speak such good English.
- such + a + adjective + singular countable noun e.g. You have such a beautiful face.
- such + adjective + plural noun e.g. You are such wonderful students.
- so much + uncountable noun e.g. so much information / progress / money / evidence.
- so many + plural noun e.g. so many exams / students / books / houses.
- such a lot + noun e.g. such a lot of money, such a lot of books.

See COUNTABLE AND UNCOUNTABLE NOUNS (Chapter 20).

Choose the correct form

1. They are so / such good teachers.
2. Her accent is so / such strong that I can't understand it.
3. She has a so strong / such a strong accent that I can't understand it.
4. This job is so easy / is a such easy job that anyone could do it.
5. I had never met a so friendly / such a friendly person.
6. There is so much / many information here that I can't understand it.
7. There is so / such a lot of information here that I can't understand it.
8. We had a so good / a such good / such a good time at the party.
9. I am in so many / such a lot of trouble, I don't know what to do.
10. I have heard so / such a lot about you. And I have heard so much / many about you too.

- 1) such 2) so 3) such a strong 4) job is so easy 5) such a friendly 6) much 7) so
8) such a good 9) such a lot of 10) such, much

Chapter 43

Some, Any and Related Issues

Any bread is in the freezer.

There isn't any bread in the freezer.

I have not wine, only beer.

I have no wine / I don't have any wine, only beer.

No one of the books is useful.

None of the books are useful.

I did nothing of interesting at the weekend.

I did nothing interesting at the weekend.

Could I have any more milk please?

Could I have some more milk please?

I couldn't answer no questions. They were impossible.

I couldn't answer any of the questions.

There is some wine in the fridge but there isn't any beer.

Would you like some more wine?

I know you don't drink alcohol, but do you happen to have any wine?

If you have any queries or need any further info, please let me know.

I couldn't answer any of the questions, not a single one.

I couldn't answer some of the questions, but most were quite easy.

None of the questions were difficult to answer.

Nothing extraordinary ever happens to me, although something interesting did happen this weekend.

We have no problems at the moment.

Guidelines

The following guidelines are also generally true for derivatives of some and any, e.g. anything, somewhere.

- some: affirmative phrases (I have some problems).
- some: offers (Would you like some coffee?), and requests when the expected answer is 'yes' (Could I have some milk please).
- some: in negative phrases when the sense is 'a few' or 'a little': I didn't understand some of what he said, but most of it made sense.
- any: negative phrases (I didn't understand anything of what he said - he was incomprehensible).
- any: phrases and questions when you are not sure how the person will answer (If you any problems, let me know. I know they are not in season but do you have any strawberries?) In the two examples the writer / speaker doesn't know if the listener will have problems or will have strawberries.
- When something and nothing are followed by an adjective no of is required: Do you have any of interesting to tell me?
- Use none not any at the beginning of a sentence when the sentence is negative (none of my teachers are good at their job - any of my teachers).
- Use no or not any but not not before a noun: we have no milk, we don't have any milk, we have not milk.

Choose the correct form

1. Could you give me any / some help with my suitcases.
2. Did you have any / some problems finding us?
3. For any / some reason my last email had delivery problems.
4. Can I have any / some water please?
5. Is there anything / something you're not quite clear about?
6. Sorry, but anyone / someone is waiting for me.
7. Sorry, I've just seen anyone / someone I know.
8. Anything / Something has come up, so I'm afraid I can't come to the party.
9. We learn nothing interesting / nothing of interesting in his lessons.
10. We have not bidets / have no bidets / don't have bidets in our country.

- 1) some 2) any 3) some 4) some 5) anything 6) someone 7) someone 8) something 9) nothing interesting 10) don't have bidets (have no bidets)

Chapter 44

Stop, Remember

We stopped the car for looking at the accident.

We stopped the car to look at the accident.

I stopped to listen to the music on full volume as soon as my parents came here.

I stopped listening to the music on full volume as soon as my parents came here.

Don't worry - I remembered posting your letter, they said it should arrive on Monday.

Don't worry - I remembered to post your letter, they said it should arrive on Monday.

They stopped themselves at the motorway cafe to get some food.

They stopped at the motorway cafe to get some food.

I stopped to go to the disco when I was in my mid 20s.

I stopped going to the disco when I was in my mid 20s.

I stopped to look at the shop windows. (I interrupted what I was doing before).

I stopped looking at FB when the boss came in. (I was looking at FB before he came in).

I remember going to the post office. (I recall the moment in which I went).

I remembered to go to the post office. (I didn't forget).

Guidelines

- to stop + -ing = to interrupt a continuous activity (e.g. I stopped smoking last year).
- to stop + infinitive = to interrupt one activity in order to be able to start a new (e.g. I stopped to tie my shoelace, i.e. I was walking along the street and I had to stop so that I could deal with my shoelaces).
- to stop is not generally reflexive: We stopped to get gas. Not: We stopped ourselves to get gas.
- to remember doing something = to recall and visualize the moment in which you did / were doing something.
- to remember to do something = not to forget to do a task.

Choose the correct form

1. I stopped to pick / picking up some dinner for us.
2. She stopped to help / helping us change the wheel on our car.
3. She stopped to help / helping us when she realised that we could do everything by ourselves.
4. We had to stop to fill / filling up with gas - we had nearly run out.
5. We stopped on our way looking / to look at the new theatre.
6. I remember telling / to tell her because she reacted quite badly.
7. Will you remember turning / to turn off all the lights please?
8. We remembered to go / going to the supermarket - so we got the milk and everything else.
9. I remember her to say / saying that she never wanted to see him again.
10. Did you remember to bring / bringing my clothes?

1) to pick 2) to help 3) helping 4) to fill 5) to look 6) telling 7) to turn 8) to go 9) saying 10) to bring

Chapter 45

Used To and Present Tense

She is used to get up early - six o'clock every morning.

She usually gets up early - six o'clock every morning.

She uses to go to work by train.

She goes to work by train.

I am used to go to the sea for my holidays.

I usually go to the sea for my holidays.

We were always used to spend a lot of time together.

We always used to spend a lot of time together.

I read books from start to finish. I am used to do this way.

I read books from start to finish. This is what I (usually, generally, always, often) do.

In former / past times I went to work by bike.

I used to go to work by bike.

I (usually) watch German films rather than American films.

She (usually) goes to bed after midnight.

I used to watch American films when I was a student.

I used to smoke 50 a day now I only smoke 5 a day.

I (usually) get up early. It suits me

Guidelines

- The simple present in English is used to express habits, things that you do regularly. So if you are talking about when you get up, how you get to work, when and what you eat etc, then simply use the present tense and combine it with an adverb e.g. usually, generally, normally. The form ~~I am used to get up at 7, she is used to have breakfast~~ etc does not exist. Instead you say: I (usually) get up at 7. She (usually) has breakfast.
- To talk about a habit in the past, then you can use: I used to + infinitive. This form implies that you no longer have this habit. Note that the verb to be is not used with this form: I used to smoke, not ~~I was used to smoke~~.

Choose the correct form

1. I spend / use to spend three hours studying every evening.
2. She uses to send / sends her children to bed early.
3. I am used to watch / I usually watch English movies with subtitles.
4. I was used / I used to spend three hours studying every evening, now I only spend two.
5. When I was a child, we used to go / were used to go on holiday to the mountains.
6. We don't use to / We don't do this in our country.
7. In some places they use to eat / they eat horses, but not here.

1) spend 2) sends 3) I usually watch 4) I used 5) used to go 6) we don't do this 7) they eat

Chapter 46

Very Much, A Lot:* Use at the End of a Phrase

A doctor earns very much.

A doctor earns a lot.

I spent very much.

I spent a lot.

Before playing an energetic sport you need to warm up very much.

Before playing an energetic sport you need to warm up a lot.

I like a lot this movie.

I like this movie a lot. I very much like this movie.

She laughs very much - nearly all the time in fact.

She laughs a lot - nearly all the time in fact.

I love you a lot / very much.

I like my job very much / a lot. I very much like my job. I really like my job.

He plays tennis a lot.

She talks a lot.

I didn't spend very much / a lot.

Guidelines

- The meaning of a lot and very much is basically the same: a big amount. a lot is quantitative - this means that a lot could also be replaced with a number or a frequency. Look at these sentences: She eats a lot. She talks a lot. He smokes a lot. He complains a lot. You could replace a lot with: she eats four meals day, she talks all the time, he smokes 50 cigarettes a day, he complains every time he has a problem.
- very much is qualitative and cannot be used when a quantity or frequency is implicitly involved. You can use very much generally with regard to describing your feelings about something or someone, typically with love and miss, and generally also with like.
- You can put very much between the subject and verb: I very much like red wine = I like red wine very much. You cannot put a lot before an infinitive or the object of the sentence: ~~I want a lot to go. I miss a lot him.~~
- There is no difference between a lot and very much in negative sentences. So you can say She doesn't talk a lot or She doesn't talk very much with really no difference in meaning.

Choose the correct form

1. He eats a lot / very much.
2. I like very much your parents / your parents very much.
3. I really want to see you / want to see you very much.
4. I didn't see her a lot / very much while I was in Canada.
5. They spend a lot / very much on wine.
6. We don't get to talk to each other a lot / very much at the moment.
7. I am very much / really missing you my darling.
8. She sings a lot / very much in the bath.
9. I talk to my mother a lot / very much.
10. I a lot / very much want to see you.
11. Thanks a lot / very much.

1) a lot 2) your parents very much 3) really want to see you (very much = too formal in this context) 4) a lot / very much 5) a lot 6) a lot / very much 7) really very much = too formal in this context) 8) a lot 9) a lot 10) very much 11) a lot / very much

Chapter 47

Want, Would, Would Like, Would Prefer

She wants that I study more.

She wants me to study more.

They wanted that I went to university.

They wanted me to go to university.

They would want me to come with them.

They would like me to come with them.

She prefers that I remain with her.

She would prefer me to remain with her.

I would know if there are any seats available.

I would like to know if there are any seats available.

I want you to study.

They want me to go to New York.

She would prefer / would like us to go with her.

My parents would like me to leave home.

I would like to leave soon.

I wanted to leave the party because I was not enjoying myself.

I would leave straightaway if someone could give me a lift home.

Guidelines

- want, would like and would prefer require a particular construction: to want + someone + infinitive. Examples: I want her to go. I would like them to come. I would prefer you to stay.
- would like is often used as a kind of conditional form of to want (instead of would want). So when expressing a preference in a polite way you should say I would like you to go and not I would want you to go.
- When you say what you want someone else to do, say I would prefer and not I prefer. Example: I would prefer you not to make such comments. You use I prefer (i.e. the present tense) to talk about habitual preferences such as I prefer beer to wine.
- Do not use would when you mean would like. Use would to form the conditional of all verbs (I would study more if I had time. She would go if you asked her). Instead would like is used to express a preference: I would like to study French.

Choose the correct form

1. I want that you / you to tell me the truth.
2. I don't want her to know / that she knows anything about it.
3. I want that there is someone that corrects me / someone to correct me when I make a mistake.
4. My father wants that I can / me to be able to live independently.
5. I would prefer my baby to sleep / that my baby sleeps in another room.
6. I prefer / would prefer you to tell me now and not tomorrow.
7. I would really like / want you to sit next to me.
8. I would prefer her not to hear / that she doesn't hear about this.
9. I would / would like to try to summarize what I have been saying.
10. I would / would like to start again if I were you.

1) you to 2) want her to know 3) someone to correct me 4) me to be able 5) my baby to sleep 6) would prefer 7) like 8) her not to hear 9) would like 10) would

Chapter 48

Which? What? How?

Which kind of music do you like?

What kind of music do you like?

Which type of car does your father have?

What type of car does your father have?

Which do you want to drink?

What do you want to drink?

How is your name?

What is your name?

How is it called your cat?

What is your cat called?

What arm did you break?

Which arm did you break?

What do you like to drink at mealtimes?

Which do you prefer - red or white wine?

What type of music do you like?

A: I like jazz. B: Who do you like? A: I like John Coltrane. B: Which of his albums do you like the most?

What's the English for 'xyz'?

Which is correct? "I like very much you" or "I like you very much".

How do you say / pronounce 'xyz' in English?

How do you spell xyz?

Guidelines

- Use what to ask a generic question that doesn't distinguish between two or more items.
- Use which to discover a preference from a limited choice of items.
- Use how to discover the means with which something is done / said etc.

Choose the correct form

1. In need some shoes. What / Which size? What / Which color?
2. What / Which would you prefer - wine or beer?
3. What / Which is your favorite kind of music?
4. What / Which is your favorite pop band?
5. What / Which book do you want – this one or that one?
6. What / Which / How is this sport called?
7. What / Which / How is the name of this sport?
8. What / Which / How do you pronounce this word?
9. What / Which / How is the English word for schadenfreude?
10. What / Which / How do you say schadenfreude in English?
11. What / Which / How is your phone number?
12. What / Which is the best way to explain this to a child?

- 1) what 2) what 3) which 4) what 5) which 6) what 7) what 8) how 9) which 10) how 11) what 12) what

Chapter 49

Who, Which and What in Questions

What you did next?

What did you do next?

Who your son looks like? You or your husband.

Who does your soon look like? You or your husband.

What did happen next?

What happened next?

Who did build this house?

Who built this house?

Which club did win the most matches?

Which club won the most matches?

Which room does need painting?

Which room needs painting?

Who do you love? I love my wife.

Who loves you? My wife loves me.

Which company do you work for? I work for Google.

Which company produces the best software? Google does.

I hear you did your cooking course yesterday. What did you make?

What made you decide to do a cooking course?

Guidelines

- In the interrogative form, an auxiliary is normally required: Who / What / Which did you see? So the forms: Who you saw? What you saw? Which you saw? are not correct. However there are cases when the auxiliary is not required.
- Use who / which / what + auxiliary (e.g. Who do / did) when who, which and what are the object of the verb. In the question Who do you love? the pronoun you is the subject, and who is the object.
- Use who / which / what + main verb (e.g. Who says .. Which costs ...) when who, which and what are the subject of the verb. In the question Who loves you? the pronoun you is the object, and who is the subject.

Choose the correct form

1. Which film did you watch / you watched last night?
2. Who did get / got married?
3. Who did you say / you said got married?
4. What does seem / seems to be the problem?
5. Who did say / said that I was not coming to the party?
6. Who did you go / you went with?
7. Who did go / went with you?
8. Which did come / came first the chicken or the egg?
9. What does turn / turns you on the most?
10. What / Which courses do you give / give you the most credits?

1) did you watch 2) got 3) did you say 4) seems 5) said 6) did you go 7) went 8) came 9) turns 10) give you

Chapter 50

Will vs Present Simple

Can someone give me a hand with this? OK I help you.

OK I will help you.

Please can you send us further details. Of course, we send them later today.

Of course, we'll send them later today.

[The doorbell rings]. I go and see who it is.

I will go and see who it is.

When I will be 40 years old, I will probably ...

When I am 40 years old, I will probably ...

I wait here until you will get back.

I will wait here until you get back.

As soon as I know something, I tell you.

As soon as I know something, I will tell you.

Your mobile is ringing. OK I'll answer it.

I can't find my wallet. I'll help you find it.

As you will see from the attached doc ...

I'll contact our HR manager and ask her to mail you.

I'm sure Russia won't win the World Cup.

When I see her I will tell her. I will do it when I have time.

If it rains I will stay at home.

As soon as I find out, I will let you know.

Guidelines

- When you make a decision at the moment of speaking (particularly in response to a request), use will. Do not use the present simple (or present continuous or GOING TO - Chapter 9).
- will is typically used 1) to express a spontaneous decision or make an offer to do something (e.g. I'll help you with your suitcase); 2) in emails and letters to refer to attachments or say what action we intend to take (e.g. I'll get back to you with the information you requested); 3) to predict future events, based on personal intuitions (e.g. I think they'll lose the election).
- With when, before, after, until, if (i.e. words connected with time), use the present tense directly after the time word and will in the other part of the clause (e.g. When / If I see her, I will tell her). See Chapter 17.

Choose the correct form

1. We let / will let you know when we have more information.
2. Someone's at the door. OK I go / will go and see who it is.
3. Does it rain / Will it rain when we are / will be in England?
4. What would you like to drink? I have / will have a coffee please.
5. If it is not / won't be hot next week then I don't / won't go.
6. I need someone to do this for me. OK I help / will help you.
7. How many people are / will be there next week?
8. I get / will get back to you with more details as soon as possible.
9. When I have / will have enough money I travel / will travel round the world.
10. I call / will call you before I leave / will leave.

1) will let 2) will go 3) Will it rain, are 4) will 5) is not, won't 6) will help 7) will be
8) will get 9) have, will travel 10) will call, leave

Part 2

Revision Tests

Chapter 51

Revision Tests

Revision Tests 1

Each sentence contains a mistake. Correct the sentences and then compare your answers with the corrected versions given in the first subsection of the relevant chapter.

1 advise, recommend, suggest

Can you suggest me a place to go?

I advise to see a lawyer.

He recommended her to see a doctor.

I recommend to identify some key points to remember.

We suggest you to come with us.

They suggested to use Google Translate.

2 allow, enable, permit, let

It is not allowed / permitted to smoke in class.

The teacher lets us to talk during lessons.

They allow using the dictionary during the exam.

This enables to make multiple copies.

It is not permitted walking on the grass.

3 already, just, still, yet

Are you just here? You are a bit early, aren't you?

Are you yet here? I thought you had gone.

I haven't yet decided what to do.

They haven't still come - I am worried about them.

They are here yet.

4 articles: a, an

She has a Apple computer.

He has an university degree and a MBA.

He was driving without license.

She works in bank.

I came without ID.

5 articles: a / an vs one vs it vs genitive

Do you have one mobile phone? Yes, I have it.

Do you think that this year will be more active than the last one?

That isn't David's umbrella, the one of David is striped.

We didn't go to Sigmund's house, we went to the one of Petra.

Bill and Mary went to the movies. This one had already seen it.

6 articles: the vs zero article (Ø)

All you need is the love.

English were very shortsighted to initiate Brexit.

The drug is a serious problem in today's society.

He had short hair and the eyes were brown.

I am not able to decide which is sentence is correct.

7 be able, manage vs can / could

I am not able to decide which sentence is correct.

I have never can ski.

I will can pass the exam if I study.

It was a very long marathon but she could reach the end.

By searching the web, I could find all the info I needed.

8 be born, die

I am born in Rome.

She is born in March so she is a Pisces.

The baby will born next week.

They found him alone in the flat - he was died.

He was dead ten days ago.

She is dead since many years.

9 be going to

According to the forecast, it rains later this afternoon.

Do you tell me or not?

How do I eat this without a knife and fork?

When I get home I am making dinner and watching TV.

Will you have a shower? If not, I am going to clean the bathroom now.

10 be vs have

It's snowing outside and I have cold.

She has 10 years.

What day do we have today?

You have right.

Is there a computer at you?

11 be vs have as auxiliary verbs

Demand is decreased.

He is gone back to the hotel.

She was arrived an hour before.

The lecture is begun.

Your child is grown a lot.

Your English is improved.

The director had made to resign.

12 been vs gone

I have gone to New York twice, the first time was in 2018.

He had already gone there, so he didn't want to go again.

Have you ever gone to Paris?

I have never gone to Venice.

You are late where have you gone?

13 can vs may

As you can remember, I have always loved jazz.

May you help me with my suitcases?

Someone can object if it's not true.

The woman in the picture can be a manager.

It may be that they have lost our address.

He can be in his late 20s.

I can say that it was very expensive.

14 cannot vs may not

I can not to see very well.

They can be annoying for me but cannot be for you.

She said she was rather busy, so she said she cannot come to the party, but let's hope she does.

It can be that I don't have enough money to pay the bill.

I may not come to the party - I am afraid I will be away that weekend.

15 collective nouns

Manchester United is playing Real Madrid tonight.

The police is investigating the case.

None of the books is worth reading.

The staff is having a meeting at the moment.

The gang is fighting each other.

16 comparisons

She is the better in the class.

I am worst than you at English.

It was the more expensive I could find.

This exercise is more easy than that one.

The new reservoir holds ten times water as much as the old one.

Bigger the mistake more you learn.

Her mother is a taller woman.

They came as late as midnight.

17 conditionals: zero, first (if vs when)

If I see her, I tell her what you said.

You will not pass the exam if you will not study.

When you arrive late to a Keith Jarrett concert they don't let you in.

I will call the police when she is not back within the next hour.

When I decide to go to New York this year, I will certainly come and see you.

18 conditionals: second, third

If my parents would give me the money I would go on holiday.

We would have arrived much earlier if we would not have got lost.

If I had not got married so young it was better.

If I would live in the country, I would be happy.

I would die, if he had seen me like that.

19 continuous forms

He is thinking that politics is a waste of time.

The dog is smelling. She needs a wash.

She's talked on the phone all morning - when is she going to stop?

Last weekend I didn't do anything because my girlfriend worked.

We went for a walk but after an hour it was raining.

20 countable and uncountable nouns

Excuse me, is there a news for me?

The news about her aunt are not good.

He has such a bad taste.

He's losing his hairs with all this stress.

I asked a staff at the informations desk.

I have a lot of experiences in writing reports.

Look at the damages she has done to our car.

They have done many researches on this.

This may be an evidence against astrology.

We went to the mall, had a lunch, and then saw a movie.

21 each, every, all, none

Almost each family has a fiber optic connection now.

Each of the students were afraid.

All of the students were not afraid.

Each of us did not have an umbrella.

Everyone are happy with the pay rise.

The prices are low for every goods.

These oranges are $1 for each.

22 few, little, a few, a little

Few days ago I met him at the station.

With the few money they gave me I was unable to buy fresh food.

He knows a little about this subject, almost nothing in fact.

Little people have seen this film.

We only have a few informations on this.

23 (this is the) first / second / third time

This is only the second time I try Chinese food.

This is the first time we are all together.

This is the first time I am taking a language course.

It was the first time I traveled by plane.

Is this the first time you come here?

24 genitive: the possessive form of nouns

This is the John's book.

The lesson of Tuesday is canceled.

The Trump's administration made many mistakes.

This is a typical everyday's problem.

This is an Alfred Hitchcock's movie.

I read a Harry Potter's book.

25 have, have got

Have you got a dog? Yes I've.

Do you have time? Yes, I have got.

Hypochondria is the one disease I don't have got.

I've a meeting in 10 minutes, have you got one too?

After buying the house, they had not very much money left.

26 have something done

I am not going to make cut my hair by my mum.

She is having her house to paint next week.

Do you make clean your house by an outside service?

I am having done my nails tomorrow.

I do get a lifting to my face.

27 how long, how much time, how many times

How long time do you live here?

From how much time have you been working for yourself?

How much time have you seen this movie?

How time do we have to do this exercise?

Who knows how long she is crying.

28 -ing form vs the infinitive

To cook is a very enjoyable activity.

After to teach you I will go home.

I look forward to hear from you.

While to watch the film I fell asleep.

How long will it take for reaching the next town?

29 languages and nationalities

Did you learn the Greek at school?

He speaks a good English.

She doesn't know the English.

The Spanish is simpler than the English.

English are a strange race.

I met one English and one Dutch.

There were two Japaneses on the train.

30 like, love, prefer

Would you like going to the movies with me?

Do you like me to show you how to do it?

She doesn't like when I use a curse word.

They prefer living in the country more than living in a town.

I like smoke.

If you don't mind I would prefer going to bed.

I don't prefer to go now.

I don't like that he eats with his mouth open.

31 make vs let

She let us to leave early.

They let us to think that they were experts in the field.

They made us work on our own, which was great because we all like working independently.

He made me to study all the rules.

Do you make build your house by a construction company?

32 much, many, a lot of, lots of

I have much work at the moment.

How much times have you been there?

Was there much people?

You don't need many money to do this.

There are many evidences to support this view.

There are many softwares to do this.

33 must vs have to

I must change train in Rome - there is no train that goes direct.

I must be at work before 10 every morning - although my boss is quite flexible.

Have you to do it immediately?

I've to go now - sorry.

At our school we must arrive at 8.0.

34 must not vs do not have to

He was left a lot of money so he hasn't to work.

We have not to do a written exam, just an oral one.

Thank you but you hadn't to go to so much trouble.

You do not have feed the animals.

Haven't we to go now?

35 numbers, dates and measurements

They are about 50 km from here to there.
 A million euros are a lot of money.
 We are leaving on the 21th of August.
 How did the exercise go? Well, I think I got the six wrong.
 There were two hundreds people at the concert.
 I got about the 50% of the answers correct.
 He is tall one meter and eighty.
 They won the match three at zero.

36 passive vs active

The accident was happened yesterday.
 The Second World War was broken out in 1939.
 In her childhood she was undergone many hardships.
 In that area they are suffered from many natural calamities.
 They were gradually disappeared into darkness.
 In the book it is written that the prime minister knew nothing.

37 people vs person, men, human

The people in the office is friendly.
 Ten persons are coming to my party.
 She spoke while all the other persons listened and then fell asleep.
 Most of students have read this book.
 The most people that I know have stopped using Facebook.
 A drug addict is a man who is dependent on drugs.
 I'm nothing other than a man, there is nothing I can do about it.
 Who builds houses knows how to put up a roof.

38 present perfect vs past simple

When have you seen her? This morning? Yesterday?
 He has left Shanghai for a long time.
 I have come to Shanghai three years.
 My email address changed, I will give you the new one.
 They have moved here in 2018.
 They have left a few minutes ago.
 From last week I have changed my class.

39 present perfect with for and since

I am here since last week.
 I live here all my life.
 She is living here since May / for several months.
 They have been here from yesterday.
 They have implemented this new policy since 2017.

40 pronouns

If someone is interested he adds his name to the list.
 Someone had parked his car in the middle of the street.
 Someone called for you this morning but he didn't leave his name.
 (On the phone) Who is speaking? I am Anna.
 The job is not as easy as someone might expect.
 With this app the user can do x and he can also do y.

41 so, too, very, that

My job is not so interesting.
 They are not so big companies.
 The film was too good.
 Sorry but this food is too for me.
 Sorry, but I don't agree with you.
 The book was not so interesting.

42 so, such, so many, so much

He is a such nice person.
 I didn't have so great expectations.
 It is not so strong accent.
 It was a so short time.
 I have so things to do.

43 some, any and related issues

Any bread is in the freezer.
 I have not wine, only beer
 No one of the books is useful.
 I did nothing of interesting at the weekend.
 Could I have any more milk please?
 I couldn't answer no questions. They were impossible.

44 stop, remember

We stopped the car for looking at the accident.
 I stopped to listen to the music on full volume as soon as my parents came here.
 Don't worry - I remembered posting your letter, they said it should arrive on Monday.
 They stopped themselves at the motorway cafe to get some food.
 I stopped to go to the disco when I was in my mid 20s.

45 used to

She is used to get up early - six o'clock every morning.
 She uses to go to work by train.
 I am used to go to the sea for my holidays.
 We were always used to spend a lot of time together
 I read books from start to finish. I am used to do this way.
 In former / past times I went to work by bike.

46 very much, a lot

A doctor earns very much.

I spent very much.

Before playing an energetic sport you need to warm up very much.

I like a lot this movie.

She laughs very much - nearly all the time in fact.

47 want, would, would like, would prefer

She wants that I study more.

They wanted that I went to university.

They would want me to come with them.

She prefers that I remain with her.

I would know if there are any seats available.

48 which? what? how?

Which kind of music do you like?

Which type of car does your father have?

Which do you want to drink?

How is your name?

How is it called your cat?

What arm did you break?

49 who, which and what in questions

What did happen next?

Who your son looks like? You or your husband.

Who did build this house?

Which club did win the most matches?

Which room does need painting?

50 will vs simple present

Can someone give me a hand with this? OK I help you.

Please can you send us further details. Of course, we send them later today
[The doorbell rings]. I go and see who it is.

When I will be 40 years old, I will probably ...

I wait here until you will get back.

As soon as I know something, I tell you.

Revision Tests 2

Follow the instructions for each exercise. Then compare your answers with the example sentences given in the second subsection of the relevant chapter.

1 advise, recommend, suggest

Underline the correct form

1. He suggested she should / her to see a doctor.
2. He advised to see / her to see a doctor.
3. I would advise you to see / seeing a doctor.
4. He suggested us to / that we should go out for a drink.

2 allow, enable, permit, let

Underline the correct form

1. Our parents let us / us to go to bed late.
2. The teacher allowed us to use / using a calculator during the exam.
3. This app enables to order / you to order a taxi.
4. They were allowed to go / going home early.
5. It is not permitted to smoke / smoking inside the airport.

3 already, just, still, yet

Insert already, just, still, or yet into the spaces.

1. Is it midnight ____? Time for bed then.
2. Is it midnight ____? I can't wait to open the champagne to celebrate the new year.
3. Have you finished ____? It didn't take you very long.
4. Have you finished ____? You seem to be taking a long time.
5. They have ____ arrived. Typical, they always arrive early.
6. They have ____ arrived. Go help them with their suitcases.
7. They haven't arrived _____. But I imagine they will be here soon in any case.
8. They ____ haven't arrived. Where are they? I hope they haven't had an accident.

4 articles: a / an

Insert a or an into the spaces.

1. This is _____ European law.
2. This is _____ EU law.
3. This is _____ universal problem.
4. This is _____ unusual problem.
5. He is _____ NBC player.
6. He is _____ notoriously good player.
7. You cannot enter the country without _____ visa or _____ permit.

5 articles: a / an, one, it

Insert a, an, one or it into the spaces.

1. I have bought _____ new car - it is self-driving.
2. They have two cars. She has _____ and her husband has _____.
3. I went to the shop to buy the new iPhone and I bought the last _____.
4. Do you have a self-driving car? Yes, I have _____.
5. Do you have _____ with you now? Yes, I do.
6. Have you found your mobile? Yes I have found _____.
7. This _____ is bigger than that _____.

6 articles: the vs zero article (Ø)

Insert the into the spaces where appropriate.

1. Make _____ love not _____ war.
2. _____ L / love she felt for him did not waver while he was away during _____ war in Afghanistan.
3. _____ R / researchers spend a lot of time in _____ laboratory.
4. _____ P / pollution is a serious environmental issue and _____ pollution we have here in China is about _____ worst in _____ world.
5. _____ English is spoken all around _____ world. _____ English themselves only represent about _____ 10% of _____ native English speaking people.

7 be able vs can / could

Where possible choose can / could.

1. I would like be able to / can speak Spanish but I have never could / been able to learn it.
2. When I was five I could / can swim very well.
3. When I lived in Manchester I was able to / could go and see the best concerts whenever I wanted to.
4. We couldn't / were not able to see because of the rain.
5. I couldn't / was not able to answer any of the questions.

8 be born, die

Insert the correct form / tense of to be born or to die into the spaces.

1. She ____ in 1997.
2. Her baby ____ in a couple of months.
3. He is dead. He ____ last year. He ____ for one year.
4. By the time the ambulance got to the scene of the accident he ____ .
5. He ____ a few minutes before the ambulance arrived.

9 be going to

Put the verbs in bold into going to, will, the present tense or the present continuous.

1. The piano be delivered this afternoon. I don't know where put it.
2. Tonight I relax in front of the TV.
3. She says she be a doctor when she grow up.
4. Sorry but I tell you now. Maybe I find the courage to tell you tomorrow.
5. According to the Bank of England, inflation rise 2% next year.

10 be vs have

Insert is, are, has or have into the spaces.

1. She ____ three years old.
2. You ____ right and I ____ wrong.
3. I ____ cold - what's the temperature in here?
4. I ____ a cold, in fact I think I am getting a temperature.

11 be vs have as auxiliary verbs

Insert was, were or had into the spaces.

1. The criminal ____ arrested by the police.
2. The police ____ already arrested the criminal twice before.
3. The project ____ finished on time.
4. The project ____ already finished when I joined the team.
5. Taxes ____ increased by 20% by the new government
6. The problems ____ increased over the last two years.
7. The patient ____ taken to hospital in an ambulance.
8. The father ____ taken the children to school.

12 been vs gone

Insert been or gone into the spaces.

1. He has ____ to China - I don't suppose we'll see him again for a long time.
2. He has ____ to China twice. He said it was fascinating and he can't wait to go back.
3. We had ____ home already, that's why you couldn't find us at the office.
4. We had ____ to the cinema three times that week, so we didn't want to go again.

13 can vs may

Insert can or may into the spaces.

1. I _____ come next Wednesday at 12 o'clock - so note that down in your diary.
2. He _____ come next week, but he's not sure at the moment.
3. (Friend to another friend) _____ you help me with my homework?
4. (Shop assistant to customer) _____ I help you? Do you need some assistance?

14 cannot vs may not

Insert cannot or may not into the spaces.

1. I _____ come to the lesson tomorrow because I am on holiday. = It is impossible for me to come.
2. I _____ come to the lesson – I will let you know later today if I can or not.
= Perhaps I will not come.
3. She _____ be at home yet, she doesn't stop work until after 6 pm.
4. I would try ringing her later because she _____ be at home yet.

15 collective nouns

Underline the correct form

1. Most of the companies in the survey has / have an intranet.
2. England has / have a population of 54 million.
3. England is / are playing South Korea in the world cup semi finals.
4. None of the films I saw was / were any good.
5. None of the information was / were up to date.
6. The crew / team / staff / choir is / are all from Mexico.

16 comparisons

Choose the correct form.

1. Microsoft is bigger / more big Amazon.
2. FIAT is one of the biggest / bigger companies in Italy.
3. Mexico City has the second largest / larger population in the world.
4. She is by far the more / most productive person in the company.
5. Thailand's inflation rate is not as low as / like / than Japan's.
6. She doesn't have as much time as / like / than I do.
7. She has less / fewer time than me.
8. They have the same number of clients as / like / than us.
9. The more / more I see, less / the less I understand you

17 conditionals: zero, first (if vs when)

Put verbs in bold into the correct tense. At the moment the verbs are in their infinitive form.

1. If you mix red and green you get brown.
2. If you arrive late at my company no one says anything - it's all very easy going.
3. If I arrive late tomorrow my boss will be very angry - we have a meeting early in the morning.
4. I (not) pass the exam if I (not) study.
5. When I see her, I tell her. It will either be Monday or Tuesday next week.
6. If I see her, I tell her. But to be honest I (not) see her very often so I can't guarantee anything.

18 conditionals: second, third

Put verbs in bold into the correct tense. At the moment the verbs are in their infinitive form.

1. If I know the answer I tell you. But unfortunately I don't know the answer.
2. I study more if I have time. I have some many other things to do which take up all my time.
3. I travel more when I was younger if I have the money, but in reality I be a poor student!
4. If I pass the exam I be very happy, but unfortunately I fail.

19 continuous forms

Put the verbs in bold into the present simple, present continuous, present perfect, present perfect, past simple or past continuous.

1. He have two dogs. = He owns / possesses two dogs.
2. He have lunch with her today. = He has made a future arrangement to eat with her.
3. They asked me what I do. = They wanted to know what my job is.
4. They asked me what I do there. = They wanted to know why I was there at that particular moment.
5. As I tell you ... = I didn't finish what I wanted to tell you.
6. As I tell you ... = I finished what I wanted to tell you but now I want to refer to it again.
7. He talk on the phone all morning. (He is still talking now).
8. I talk to her and we've resolved the matter. (I am not talking to her now)
9. I do my homework that's why I am so tired. Mother: But have you finished it?
10. I do my homework so can I play now? Mother: That's great, of course you can.

20 countable and uncountable nouns

Choose the correct form.

1. The most important feedback is / feedback are the feedback / feedback you get day by day.
2. Can you give me some / a feedback on this doc?
3. I needed some / a - I needed a bed and a wardrobe
4. IKEA furniture is / are very cheap.
5. She's doing a training / training course.
6. The paper / Paper is becoming an expensive commodity.
7. She reads the paper / paper every day.

21 each, every, all, none

Insert each, every, everyone, all, or none into the spaces.

1. _____ correct answer is worth 10 points.
2. I know the name of _____ student in the school.
3. I could hear _____ word they said.
4. The train runs _____ three minutes.
5. _____ of the books is / are worth reading.
6. _____ of us had been there before. We had _____ been there before.

22 few, little, a few, a little

Insert few, little, a few, or a little into the spaces.

1. _____ people know this. = Hardly anyone / Almost no one knows about this.
2. _____ people know this. = Some people know this, but not many.
3. _____ has been done to help the poor. = Not enough / Very very little has been done..
4. _____ has been done to help the poor. = Something has been done, so a minimum amount of progress is being made.

23 (this is the) first / second / third time

Put the verbs in bold into the correct tense.

1. It is the first time that I work like this.
2. This is the third time that I tell you this rule.
3. This is not the first time that I come here.
4. It was the first time that I work like that. In fact, I had never worked so much in all my life.

24 genitive: the possessive form of nouns

Where appropriate, insert into the blanks an apostrophe 's to indicate that the genitive is required.

1. My wife writes history ____ books.
2. Look at this bookshelf. The books on the left are my books and those on the right are my wife ____ (i.e. books that she has bought).
3. My sister ____ husband is not coming to tomorrow ____ party.
4. I have many friends. I went to my friends ____ party (i.e. Jack ____ and Jill ____ party) last night.

25 have, have got

Choose the correct form.

1. Do you have / have got time for a drink? Yes, I do. Sorry I've not / I haven't got / I don't.
2. We are having / having got a party tomorrow at our house,
3. She has / She's got / She's two cars.
4. Did you have / Had you a good holiday?
5. I'm sorry I didn't have / hadn't got time to do the exercise.

26 have something done

Create complete sentences from the words below.

1. They / their house / renovate next month.
2. I / my hair / cut / yesterday.
3. We / someone / paint / the living room for us.
4. She / her tonsils / remove / next week.

27 how long, how much time, how many times

Insert long, much time, or many times into the spaces.

1. How ____ have you been living in London?
2. How ____ will you be staying here?
3. How ____ have you been to New York? I have been to New York six times.
4. How ____ do we have available? Just a couple of hours.

28 -ing form vs the infinitive

Put the verbs in bold into the -ing form vs the infinitive.

1. Have a good memory you need do a specialized course.
2. Have a good memory is really useful.
3. Before use it you need attach the headphones.
4. I look forward to hear from you.
5. We would like inform you that we have decided accept your proposal.
6. This programme allows you write spreadsheets.
7. I persuaded him let me use his mobile.

29 languages and nationalities

Insert the into the spaces where appropriate.

1. ____ English is a relatively easy language.
2. For some people, ____ English spoken in the UK is more pure than ____ English spoken in the US.
3. ____ English are a conservative race.
4. He comes from ____ Wales, he is Welsh, he speaks ____ Welsh. ____ Welsh are very patriotic.

30 like, love, prefer

Choose the correct form.

1. I like to play / playing tennis in the morning rather than the afternoon.
2. I like to play / playing tennis with Tom because I always win.
3. I don't like it / like when she beats me at tennis.
4. I would prefer to play / playing with Tom than with Rick.
5. I would prefer not to / to don't go alone.
6. Don't / Wouldn't you prefer to go out to dinner rather than cooking at home tonight?

31 make, let

Choose the correct form.

1. The mother made / let her son stay at home. he wanted to go out but she wouldn't let him go.
2. The mother made / let her son stay at home because he didn't want to go to school.
3. The teacher made / let the bad student stay / to stay behind after the lesson.
4. They made us work / to work more than twelve hours a day six days a week.
5. We were made work / to work twelve hours a day.
6. We were not allowed / made / let to go home unless we had worked twelve hours..

32 much, many, a lot of, lots of

1. I have ____ friends.
2. I don't have ____ enemies.
3. I have ____ time.
4. I don't have ____ time.
5. We have ____ information.
6. We do not have ____ information.
7. Does he earn ____ money?

33 must vs have to

1. According to students from last year, you ____ study a lot on this course.
2. My mother says I ____ eat all my vegetables.
3. Police officer: You ____ wear a seatbelt at all times.
4. So when you are in England next year you will ____ wear a seatbelt.

34 must not vs don't have to

1. You _____ come if you don't want to.
2. You _____ come before 6 o'clock or you will ruin the surprise.
3. You _____ smoke in a non-smoking compartment.
4. You _____ do a written exam, just an oral.

35 numbers, dates and measurements

Choose the correct form(s).

1. Three hundred dollars is / are about three hundred and twenty euros.
2. Hundred / Hundreds of people went on the demonstration.
3. Three weeks is / are a long time when you are in prison.
4. 60 square meters is / are enough for me - I don't need much space.
5. It is seven meters long / long seven meters.
6. Approximately 75% of Americans believe / believes in alien abduction.
7. How is the test going? I am up to number / the number seven.
8. Today is the May 23th / 23rd / 23.
9. The final score was three one / three to one (3-1).

36 passive vs active

Convert sentences 1-3 into the passive form, and sentences 4-6 into the active form.

1. They suspected him of fraud.
2. They will elect a new party.
3. Someone may steal your bike.
4. Many demonstrators are killed in riots (by the police).
5. He has been promoted at work.
6. They have promoted the movie all over the world.

37 people vs person, men, human

Choose the correct form.

1. Who swims / People who swim / Those who swim every day tend to be very fit.
2. Most people has / have access to the internet.
3. The person I spoke to the phone said that he / she / they didn't know what I was talking about.
4. A politician is someone / a man who ...

38 present perfect vs past simple

Put the verbs in bold into the present perfect or past simple.

1. I work there from 2014 to 2017.
2. I work there since 2018.
3. She set up the company in 2018. She set up many companies in the last few years.
4. They go to the bar an hour ago They be at the bar for an hour.
5. I by these books at the new book shop. I buy so many books that I don't know where to put them.
6. Last year you make a lot progress. I can see that you make a lot of progress this year too.
7. The stock market crash twice last year. The stock market crash twice already and it's only August.
8. We redesign our website - take a look at it. We originally design it five years ago.

39 present perfect with for and since

Insert for, since or from into the spaces.

1. I have worked here ____ six months.
2. I worked for Google ____ 2012 to 2017.
3. I worked for Google ____ six years.
4. I have been working in Apple ____ five years.
5. I have been here ____ 11 o'clock.
6. I didn't study English at school, but I studied French ____ five years.
7. I have studied English ____ I left school.
8. We have been studying English ____ many years.

40 pronouns

Insert you, your, he, his, she, her, it, its or they, their into the spaces.

1. If someone has a commercial activity ____ will suffer in an economic crisis.
2. If ____ have a commercial activity ____ will suffer in an economic crisis.
3. People who have a commercial activity will suffer in an economic crisis. ____ will find it hard.
4. Someone rang but ____ didn't leave ____ name.
5. A man (woman) rang but ____ didn't leave ____ name.
6. The user has to insert ____ password before accessing the site.
7. If you have a lawyer then you can ask ____ for an opinion.
8. She has just had a baby. Is ____ a boy or a girl? It ____ a girl.
9. ____ never know what ____ future will hold, do ____ ?

41 so, too, very, that + adjective

Insert so, too, very, or that into the spaces.

1. The film is _____ good - I recommend it.
2. The film is _____ good that I think everyone should see it.
3. She is a really great actress. She is _____ good to be in a B movie like that. The movie was terrible.
4. A: The film was absolutely fantastic. B: No, I didn't think it was _____ good.

42 so, such, so many, so much

Choose the correct form.

1. You are so / such that you could do any job
2. You are a such intelligent woman / such an intelligent woman.
3. You are so / such intelligent women.
4. I have such a lot / as so lot of work to do, I don't know how I will manage.

43 some, any and related issues

Insert some, any, none or no into the spaces.

1. There is _____ wine in the fridge but there isn't _____ beer.
2. Would you like _____ more wine?
3. I know you don't drink alcohol, but do you happen to have _____ wine?
4. If you _____ queries or need _____ further info, please let me know.
5. I couldn't answer _____ of the questions, not a single one.
6. I couldn't answer _____ of the questions, but most were quite easy.
7. _____ of the questions were difficult to answer.
8. We have _____ problems at the moment.

44 stop, remember

Choose the correct form.

1. I stopped to look / looking at the shop windows.
2. I stopped to look / looking at FB when the boss came in.
3. I remember to go / going to the post office.
4. I remembered to go / going to the post office.

45 used to and present tense

Choose the correct form.

1. I usually / use to / used to watch German films rather than American films.
2. She usually goes / uses to go to bed after midnight.
3. I use / used to watch American films when I was a student.
4. I use / used smoke 50 a day not I only smoke 5 a day.
5. I usually / use to / used to get up early. It suits me.

46 very much, a lot: use at the end of a phrase

In which cases would very much be possible?

1. I love you _____.
2. I like my job _____.
3. He plays tennis _____.
4. She talks _____.
5. I didn't spend _____.

47 want, would, would like, would prefer

Choose the correct form.

1. I want that you / you to study.
2. They want that I / me to go to New York.
3. She would prefer that we / us to go with her.
4. My parents would like / want me to leave home.
5. I would like to leave / leaving soon.
6. I wanted / would like to leave the party because I was not enjoying myself.

48 which? what? how?

Insert which, what or how into the spaces.

1. _____ do you like to drink at mealtimes?
2. _____ do you prefer - red or white wine?
3. _____ type of music do you like?
4. A: I like jazz. B: Who do you like? A: I like John Coltrane. B: _____ of his albums do you like the most?
5. _____ the English for 'xyz'?
6. _____ is correct? "I like very much you" or "I like you very much"
7. _____ do you say / pronounce 'xyz' in English?
8. _____ do you spell xyz?

49 who, which and what in questions

Choose the correct form.

1. Who do you love / loves you? I love my wife
2. Who do you love / loves you? My wife loves me
3. Which company do you work for / works for you? I work for Google.
4. Which company produces / does produce the best software? Google does.
5. I hear you did your cooking course yesterday. What did you make / made you?
6. What made you / did you make decide to do a cooking course?

50 will vs present simple

Put the verbs in bold into the future (will) or the present simple.

1. Your mobile is ringing. OK I answer it.
2. I can't find my wallet. I help you find it.
3. As you see from the attached doc ...
4. I contact our HR manager and ask her to mail you.
5. Interest rates go down if the Democrats win the election.
6. I be sure Russia (not) win the World Cup.
7. When I see her I tell her
8. I do it when I have time
9. If it rains I stay at home
10. As soon as I find out, I let you know

Appendix

Below are the indexes to two other books containing grammar and vocabulary exercises. If you are a student, you can use these indexes to find additional exercises. You can also use the link below to take you to you to English for Academic Research: Grammar, Usage and Style where you can find more detailed explanations to clarify certain difficulties connected to grammar and vocabulary:

<http://www.springer.com/gp/book/9781461415923>

English for Academic Research: Grammar Exercises Index

This index is by section number. Numbers marked in bold mean that the whole section is dedicated to this grammar item.

a few vs few 4.4, 4.5
a little vs little 4.4, 4.5 a vs an 3.1, 3.2, 18.1 a / an vs one 3.2
abbreviations 17.2
able to 12.7
abstracts - grammar 19, 25
acknowledgements - tenses 23
acronyms 17.1 active form 10, 20.3, 21.2, 21.3, 22.3, 26.2
adjectives - position 14.3
adverbs - position 14.7-14.14 adverbs of frequency - position 14.7 adverbs of manner - position 14.8 allow 11.4, 11.5
allowed to 12.11
also - position 14.11

any, some and derivatives 4.1, 4.2, 4.3 articles (definite, indefinite, zero) 3, 18.1 be able to 12.7 be allowed to 12.11
be supposed to 12.11
be vs have 10.1
both - position 14.11 can 12.1, 12.2, 12.3, 12.7, 12.8, 23.4, 23.5 clearly - position 14.10
commas in relative clauses 5.5, 5.6
comparative form 15, position 14.3 conclusions - tenses 24, 25
conditional forms 9
consistently - position 14.10 could 12.4, 12.5, 12.6, 12.7, 12.8, 23.4, 23.5
countable vs uncountable nouns 1.2, 1.3, 1.4 defining vs non defining relative clauses 5 definite article (the) 3, 18.2, 18.3, 22.1, 22.2 direct object - position 14.2, 14.5, 14.6 discussion - tenses 23
either - position 14.11

- enable* 11.4, 11.5
few vs a few 4.4, 4.5
finally - position 14.10
 first conditional 9.1, 9.2, 9.4, 9.5
 future continuous 8.4, 8.5 future simple (will) 8
 genitive 2
 gerund (-ing form) 11 going to 8.2, 8.3 have to 12.9, 12.10, 12.11
have vs be 10.1
 hypotheses 9, 23.1
 indefinite article (a / an) 3, 18.1-18.3, 22.2 indirect object - position 14.2 infinitive 11
-ing form 11
 introduction - tenses 20 inversion of subject and object 14.5, 14.6 just - position 14.9 little vs a little 4.4, 4.5 lots 4.5
many 4.5
may 12.1, 12.2, 12.3, 12.7, 12.8, 23.4, 23.5
 methods - tenses 21 might 12.4, 12.5, 12.6, 23.4, 23.5 modal verbs 9.7-9.9, 12, 23.4, 23.5, 24.5
the more ... the more 15.2
much 4.5
must 12.8, 12.9, 12.10, 12.11 normally - position 14.10
 noun verb agreement 1.1
 nouns: countable vs uncountable 1.2, 1.3, 1.4 numbers 16
one vs a / an 3.2
 passive form 10, 20.3, 21.2, 21.3, 22.3, 26.2 past continuous 7.7, 7.8, 7.9 past participle - position 14.4 past perfect 7.6, 7.8, 7.9 past simple 7, 19, 20.1, 20.2, 20.4, 20.5, 20.6, 21.4, 22.4, 23.2, 23.3, 23.6 permit 11.4, 11.5
 phrasal verbs 13
prefer 11.6
 prepositions in titles 18.4 present continuous 6.1, 6.2, 6.3, 19.7 present perfect 6.2, 6.3, 6.4, 7.1-7.5, 19.3, 20.1, 20.2, 20.4, 20.5, 20.6, 21.4, 22.4, 23.3, 23.6
 present perfect continuous 6.3, 6.4, 7.4, 7.5, present simple 6.1, 6.2, 6.3, 8.1, 19, 20.1, 20.2, 20.6, 21.4, 22.4, 23.2, 23.3, 23.6
 present tenses 6
 quantifiers 4 questions - word order 14.5 recommend 11.6
 relative pronouns 5
 results - tenses 22
 review of the literature - tenses 20 second conditional 9.2, 9.3, 9.4, 9.5
shall 8.6
should 9.7, 9.8, 9.9, 12.11, 21.1
some, any and derivatives 4.1, 4.2, 4.3 structured abstract - tenses 19.5, 19.6 subject - position 14.1, 14.5, 14.6 suggest 11.6
 superlative form 15 supposed to 12.11
 syntax 14
 tenses: present 6, past 7, future 8 that 5
the more ... the more 15.2
 third conditional 9.3, 9.4, 9.5, 20.6
 titles - grammar 18
 uncountable vs countable nouns 1.2, 1.3, 1.4 verb noun agreement 1.1
 verbs - phrasal 13 want 11.6 what 5.7, 5.8
which 5
which vs what 5.7, 5.8 who 5
whose 5.4
will 8, 12.7
will vs going to 8.2, 8.3
 word order 14
 would - conditional form 9 would - future in the past 20.7, 21.1, 23.2 would have to vs should 9.7
would like 9.6, 11.6
would vs should 9.8, 9.9
would vs would like 9.6 zero article 3, 18.2, 18.3, 22.2 zero conditional 9.1, 9.4, 9.5

English for Academic Research: Vocabulary Exercises

Table of Contents

This table of contents refers to the chapter numbers.

Section 1 Adjectives and Adverbs

- | | | | |
|------|---|------|--|
| 1.1 | actual, current, topical | 1.33 | fewer, less, minor |
| 1.2 | actually, currently, nowadays | 1.34 | for, since |
| 1.3 | advisable, convenient, comfortable | 1.35 | greater, main, major |
| 1.4 | all, entire, everything, whole | 1.36 | independent(ly), irrespective(ly), regardless(ly) |
| 1.5 | almost, hard, hardly, nearly | 1.37 | main, principal, principle |
| 1.6 | alone, only, solely | 1.38 | pointless, useless |
| 1.7 | alone, individual, only, single, sole, unique | 1.39 | relevant, remarkable, significant |
| 1.8 | alternate(ly), alternative(ly) | 1.40 | sensible, sensitive |
| 1.9 | always, ever, never | 1.41 | subsequent(ly), successive(ly) |
| 1.10 | apparently, seemingly | 1.42 | adverbs of manner 1 |
| 1.11 | appropriate, proper, right, suitable | 1.43 | adverbs of manner 2 |
| 1.12 | appropriate(ly), convenient(ly), correct(ly), proper(ly), right (ly) | 1.44 | adverbs of time |
| 1.13 | at present, currently, now, nowadays | 1.45 | adjectives -ing vs -ed |
| 1.14 | characteristic, peculiar, typical, unique | 1.46 | adjectives |
| 1.15 | classic, classical | 1.47 | adjectives: positive and negative |
| 1.16 | coherent(ly), consistent(ly) | 1.48 | adjectives with similar meanings |
| 1.17 | coherent(ly), consistent(ly), substantial(ly) | | |
| 1.18 | common, diffuse, widespread | | |
| 1.19 | comprehensible, understandable | | |
| 1.20 | connected, linked, related | | |
| 1.21 | contemporary, contemporaneous, simultaneous | | |
| 1.22 | continual(ly), continuous(ly) | | |
| 1.23 | corresponding, correspondent | | |
| 1.24 | deeply, strictly, strongly, tightly, thoroughly | | |
| 1.25 | different, several, various | | |
| 1.26 | each, every, any | | |
| 1.27 | each other, one another, themselves | | |
| 1.28 | early, soon | | |
| 1.29 | economic, economical, economically, financial | | |
| 1.30 | economic, low-cost | | |
| 1.31 | enough, quite, sufficient(ly) | | |
| 1.32 | few, little, a few, a little | | |

Section 2 Link Words

- | | |
|------|---|
| 2.1 | according to, depending on, following, in accordance with, in agreement with, in compliance with, |
| 2.2 | also, as well as, even, too |
| 2.3 | also, as well as, either, even, neither / nor, not only, so, too |
| 2.4 | although, even if, even though, though |
| 2.5 | apart from, besides, except for, in addition to, with the exception of |
| 2.6 | as long as, if, provided that, unless |
| 2.7 | as is, as it is |
| 2.8 | as, how, like |
| 2.9 | as a consequence, consequently, hence, it follows that, thus, therefore |
| 2.10 | at the end, in the end, finally, lastly |
| 2.11 | because, why |
| 2.12 | both, either, neither |
| 2.13 | both, either, neither, if, whether |
| 2.14 | by now, for the moment, so far |
| 2.15 | by, thus, when, while |
| 2.16 | compared to, in relation to, with respect to |

- 2.17 despite, despite the fact, however, in any case, in spite of the fact, nevertheless, notwithstanding, still, yet
- 2.18 e.g., i.e.
- 2.19 e.g., for example, i.e., such as, that is to say, etc
- 2.20 eventual(ly), if necessary, in the end
- 2.21 in fact, instead (of), on the other contrary, on the other hand
- 2.22 Various link words 1
- 2.23 Various link words 2

Section 3 Nouns

- 3.1 base, basis
- 3.2 basis, degree, extent, level, region
- 3.3 capacity, competence, skill
- 3.4 chance, opportunity, possibility, probability
- 3.5 consideration, observation, remark
- 3.6 danger, hazard
- 3.7 dimension, size
- 3.8 measure, measurement
- 3.9 motivation, reason
- 3.10 replacement, substitute, substitution
- 3.11 requirement, request, query
- 3.12 Various nouns

Section 4 Prepositions

- 4.1 about, for, of
- 4.2 above, over, below, under, underneath
- 4.3 among, between, of
- 4.4 among, between, from, of, with
- 4.5 at, in, into, inside, to
- 4.6 at, to, Ø (no preposition)
- 4.7 at, to, towards
- 4.8 by, from
- 4.9 by, from, in, of, with
- 4.10 during, over, throughout
- 4.11 for, of
- 4.12 in, into
- 4.13 in, on
- 4.14 in, into, on, onto
- 4.15 with, within

Section 5 Verbs

- 5.1 affect, effect, influence, condition, interest
- 5.2 agree with, be in agreement with, match
- 5.3 allow, enable, permit, let, mean
- 5.4 analyze, elaborate, process
- 5.5 anticipate, bring forward, expect, forecast, foresee, predict
- 5.6 argue, claim, pretend
- 5.7 arise, raise, rise, lead to
- 5.8 ascertain, check, control, verify
- 5.9 assist, take part, participate
- 5.10 assume, hypothesize, suppose
- 5.11 assure, ensure, guarantee, insure
- 5.12 attempt, demonstrate, prove, show, test, try, try out
- 5.13 avoid, prevent
- 5.14 be concerned, cope with, deal with, focus on
- 5.15 be the result of, turn out, result, result in
- 5.16 be born, conceive, derive from, originate
- 5.17 bind, bond, bound
- 5.18 bring, cause, determine, give rise to, lead to
- 5.19 compose, comprise, consist, constitute, form, make up
- 5.20 condition, conduct, drive, guide
- 5.21 decline, decrease, go down, lessen, lower, reduce
- 5.22 degree, grade, level
- 5.23 demand, request, require, requirement
- 5.24 desire, want, wish
- 5.25 determine, cause, induce, lead to
- 5.26 depict, highlight, show, visualize
- 5.27 detect, discriminate, distinguish, identify
- 5.28 divide, separate, share, split
- 5.29 entail, imply, involve, mean
- 5.30 evidence, highlight, show
- 5.31 exclude, rule out, marginalize
- 5.32 expect, presume, suppose, wait for
- 5.33 experiment, experience, proof, prove, test
- 5.34 lack, miss
- 5.35 propose, recommend, suggest

- 5.36 refuse, reject
- 5.37 replace, substitute
- 5.38 result, turn out
- 5.39 review, revise, revisit
- 5.40 subject to, subjected to, undergo
- 5.41 Irregular verbs
- 5.42 Phrasal Verbs 1
- 5.43 Phrasal Verbs 2
- 5.44 Phrasal Verbs 3

Section 6 False Friends and Synonyms

- 6.1 False friends 1
- 6.2 False friends 2
- 6.3 Synonyms 1: reducing redundancy
- 6.4 Synonyms: Latinate vs Anglo Saxon 1
- 6.5 Synonyms: Latinate vs Anglo Saxon 2
- 6.6 Various Synonyms

Index

A

a/an, 4, 5
a few, 22
a little, 22
a lot (use at the end of a phrase), 46 a lot of, 32
active form, 10, 36
advise, 1 all, 21
allow, 2 already, 3 any, 43

B

be, 10–12 be able, 7 be born, 8
be going to, 9
been, 12

C

can, 7, 13, 14
cannot, 14
collective nouns, 15
comparisons, 16
conditionals: zero, 17; first, 17; second, 18;
third, 18
continuous forms, 19
could, 7
countable and uncountable nouns, 20, 32, 42

D

dates, 35
definite articles: the, 6

die, 8
don't have to, 34

E

each, 21
enable, 2 every, 21

F

few, 22
first/second/third time
(this is the), 23
first conditional, 17
for and since, 39

G genitive, 5, 24

gone, 12

H

have, 10, 11, 25, 26 have as an auxiliary, 11 have got, 25
have something done, 26
have to, 33, 34
he/she, 39 how, 48
how long, 27
how many times, 27
how much time, 27
human, 37

I

if, 17, 18, 50
if vs. when, 17, 50 indefinite articles: a/an, 4, 5
 infinitive, 28
-ing form, 28
it, 5, 40

J

just, 3

L

languages, 29 let, 2, 31 like, 30 little, 22 lots of, 32
love, 30

M make, 31 manage, 7

many, 32
may, 13, 14
may not, 14
 measurements, 35 men, 37
much, 32
must, 33, 34
must not, 34

N nationalities, 29

none, 21 numbers, 35

O

one, 5

P

passive form, 10, 36
 past simple, 38 people, 37 permit, 2 person, 37
prefer, 30
 present perfect, 23, 38, 39
 present simple, 9, 17, 45, 50
 pronouns, 39

R

recommend, 1
remember, 44

S

second conditional, 18
since, 39
so, 41, 42
so many, 42
so much, 42
some, 43 still, 3 stop, 44 such, 42
suggest, 1

T

temporal clauses, 17, 50 that + adjective, 41
the, 6 they, 39
 third conditional, 18
too, 41

U

used to, 45

V

very, 41
very much, 46

W

want, 47
what, 48, 49
when, 17, 50
which, 48, 49
who, 48
will, 9, 17, 50
would, 47
See also (conditional forms)
would like, 47
would prefer, 47

Y

yet, 3

Z

zero article (Ø), 6
 zero conditional, 17